THAT BLOODY TRUNK

BROUGHT TO THE STATE'S ATTORNEY'S OFFICE.

EVIDENCE IN THE CRONIN CASE

Witnesses Who Identified the Corpse as That of Dr. Cronin—John Devoy Does Not Like Mr. Forrest's Allusions.

CHICAGO, October 25.—The taking of evidence in the Cronin case was resumed in the criminal court this morning. The prosecution continued the presentation of witnesses, whose only testimony was as to the identification of the body found in the catch basin as that of Dr. Cronin.

Evidence From Winnipeg.

CHICAGO, October 25.—A dispatch from Winnipeg, Manitoba, says that possibly further light may be thrown on the Cronin murder case from Winnipeg. Burke, while here, was incarcerated in an iron cage in the provincial jail, where prisoners are kept waiting their trial. With him were three prisoners, R. Heffer, T. Mills and the "slick American," Gillette, who is awaiting trial for forgery. For some weeks past—in fact, ever since the visit to this city of the Chicago detectives—there have been rumors that Burke had confided to his companions in misery the particulars of the crime. It is now said that Gillette has told his lawyer that Burke on the night of the murder and said he witnessed the commission of the crime, though not actually a participant. This story has been corroborated, in a measure, by that said to have been told to Heffer, who was released yesterday. This man, it is asserted, told a police official that Burke told him—who professed him as a member of camp 20, who ordered the execution—who were present at the Carlson cottage when it was committed, how the body was disposed of, who paid him the money to get out of Chicago; in fact, everything that the police and press of Chicago have been endeavoring to unravel for the last six months. The police do not place much reliance in the stories, but have notified the Chicago authorities.

ADMITTED BEING IN THE CARLSON COTTAGE

THE POLICEMEN TESTIFY.

Several witnesses were called for the purpose of identifying the body. The next matter taken was the finding of the body in the catch basin.

Two sewer cleaners, who discovered the body and notified the police of the fact, and the policemen who were sent and assisted in removing the body were sworn as to this point, and described the proceedings.

Lawyer Forrest, for the defense, made the cross examination on this head very searching and rigid, compelling witnesses to go over the proceedings in connection with the removal of the body with the utmost minuteness.

FURTHER IDENTIFICATION.

The taking of identification evidence was then resumed. Patrick McGarry, a boiler maker, and friend of Dr. Cronin, indentified the body taken from the catch basin as that of the dead physician.

T. W. Lewis, a dentist, who had operated professionally on Dr. Cronin's mouth, also identified the body. He described peculiarities of the doctor, a number of missing teeth, form of the jaw, etc.; identified the plate with false teeth attached as one he had made for Dr. Cronin, and said the cast of the mouth, which he had made, fitted that of the corpse. Dr. J. K. Egert, assistant county physician, identified the plate with the teeth attached as the one he had taken from the mouth of Dr. Cronin on the day after his body was found.

THE BLOODY TRUNK.

The trunk in which Dr. Cronin's body was carried from the Carlson cottage to Lakeview catch basin was brought from the central station this morning to the state's attorney's office and carefully locked up in a vault, there to be kept until needed in the trial. A large and curious crowd gathered quickly to see the gory evidence of the great crime as it was taken by a guard of officers from the patrol wagon to the vault.

THE CAUSE OF DEATH.

CHICAGO, October 25.—In the afternoon Dr Egbert described the wounds at great length and the condition of the internal organs as shown by autopsy. It was his opinion that death had resulted from wounds, all of which were upon the head. The skull was not broken. It was impossible to say whether the wounds were inflicted before or after death. None of the wounds were such as would necessarily cause death. If the skull wounds had caused death it was owing to concussion of the brain, though the usual post mortem evidences of death from this cause were lacking.

Question—It is not scientifically true that you physicians found no evidences on that body that were certain and conclusive of the form of death?

Answer—That is true.

Dr. Egbert was of opinion that excessive loss of blood had caused death.

Dr. Charles W. Perkins, who, at request of Dr. Egbert, assisted at the post mortem, was of opinion that death did not result from blood letting, but concussion of the brain, though the brain was too decomposed to afford any information on that point.

JOHN DEVOY'S CARD

The Daily News publishes the following:

CHICAGO, October 24.—To the Editor: In interview published in today's Morning News, Mr. Forrest, one of the counsel for the defense in the Cronin case is reported to have said, among other things:

"There is Informer Devoy, Informer McCape, Informer Mike Dillon and I don't know how many other informers."

If Mr. Forrest used these words he is guilty of direct incitement to the assassination of the three men named. If Forrest does not deny having used them, I shall hold him responsible, so far as they apply to me. He cannot pretend to misunderstand the full meaning and significance of the word "informer" as used among Irishmen, especially among the men who pay his fees and instruct him. The expression quoted can have but one object. It is a notice served to all Irish witnesses for the prosecution by the chief assassins, who employ Mr. Forrest to defend their friends and their testimony concerning the murder of Dr. Cronin under an organized system of thievery, of which that murder was the direct result, and will be given at the peril of their lives. It is part of the system of the intimidation of witnesses, which has formed a prominent feature of the tactics of the defense on the beginning of the Cronin case. If the case is not now pending in court, I would treat Mr. Forrest's statement, if left uncontradicted, as I would that of any other ruffian out of court.

As it is, I think it sufficient for the present to call public attention to its murderous significance.

JOHN DEVOY.

ELECTRICITY IS DEATH.

That is What it Will Prove in McElvaine's Case.

BROOKLYN, October 25.—The court of sessions was crowded this morning by spectators and members of the bar, assembled to hear the sentence of death passed upon Charles McElvaine by Judge Moore, under the new law, which provides death by electricity. After briefly reciting the circumstances of the murder, Judge Moore said:

Mr. McElvaine: The sentence of court is that you be taken from this courtroom to jail and committed to the custody of the sheriff; that within ten days you be removed by the sheriff to Sing Sing and be given into the care of the warden and agent of Sing Sing prison and there confined, and that within the week, beginning Monday, December 9, next, you be executed by the agent and warden of the prison and put to death in the mode, manner and way by law subscribed and provided.

Crushed to Death.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., October 25.—[Special.] Adeline Williams, an aged colored woman from Nashville, was run over by a dummy train on the street here this afternoon, and instantly killed, her body being crushed into a shapeless mass. She attempted to cross the track in front of a rapidly moving train, when her feet slipped and she fell under the wheels. Her daughter, whom she was visiting, was an eye witness of the accident.

Oil Takes a Jump.

NEW YORK, October 25.—There was great excitement on the consolidated exchange today. Oil jumped from $1.03½ at the opening to $1.06¼, the highest figure reached in a long time.

AN EXCITING SCENE.

Chambers Explains How He Killed Attorney Bowman.

ST. LOUIS, October 25.—The examination of Chambers, ex-bank president, for the killing of Attorney Bowman, developed a sensation almost equal to that of the original tragedy. Chambers, after relating the details, described a whispered conversation between Bowman and himself on the porch prior to the shooting. Bowman said he must have $1,500. "But I haven't got $1,300," responded Chambers. "Then," said Bowman, "I must levy on everything in sight."

"I knew the character of the man, or rather the lack of character," said Chambers, becoming excited, "and I knew that if he once entered the house he would gut it without regard for the rights or feelings of any one. The thought then occurred to me that I would frighten him off the place. I remembered that my gun and loaded cartridges were where I could find them, in the dark if need be, as I was prepared for a visit from burglars, and I entered the house.

SEIZED AND LOADED THE WEAPON.

"When I came out I kept an eye on Garrett, for fear he would see the gun and shoot me. When Garrett saw me he called to me not to do that—not to shoot. I told him to leave, and then turned to Bowman and said: 'I will give you three minutes to get off this place.' I expected him to go, but he did not move. The sight of the gun seemed to have no effect on him whatever, and he smiled that cunning smile I knew so well. I was non-plussed. An empty gun would have frightened me more than a loaded one did Bowman. I looked down at my hand as though looking at my watch to see when the time was up, though I had no watch. Then I saw him make a motion with his hand, and it occurred to me that if I did not shoot him he would shoot me. I thought of the Terry-Field-Nagle affair and the quickness with which a man could draw a revolver and shoot. My finger was on the trigger, and I pulled it and Bowman fell."

Chambers lost his temper when closely cross-questioned, and a dramatic scene followed.

"You were afraid Bowman would kill you?" asked the prosecutor.

"Yes," replied Chambers.

"Why?"

"Because he would do anything. He was the d——dest scoundrel I ever knew."

As he said this, Chambers leaned forward in his chair, and his face became livid with rage. The spectators in the courtroom arose to their feet, and awaited the finale of the scene.

"Yes, sir," shouted Chambers hoarsely. "Never such a d—d scoundrel as Bowman ever lived, and I rejoice that I killed him."

Painful silence reigned in the courtroom and the scene was one never to be forgotten by those who were present. Chambers was held without bail to await the action of the grand jury.

THE BATTLE OF HARLAN COURTHOUSE

Wils Howard Has Pickets on All Roads Leading to Town.

PINEVILLE, Ky., October 25.—No news has been received from Harlan county since yesterday morning when messengers from Harlan Courthouse announced that Wils Howard had picketed all the roads and no one would be allowed to pass toward town. The people are getting out as rapidly as possible. The report of the battle Tuesday has been confirmed. The engagement was short but effective. Nothing has been heard of Judge Lewis and his posse, who disappeared after the battle.

THE JUDGE OUTWITTED.

The Times correspondent telegraphed from Pineville this afternoon as follows: At Harlan courthouse, Wilson Howard accomplished a sort of coup d'etat yesterday. County Judge Lewis and his posse of sixty men left Harlan courthouse at 9 o'clock in the morning to make another assault on Howard's camp. Howard, anticipating this movement, had placed his followers in an ambush near town. The Lewis posse passed directly through the ambuscade, and were not fired on. After they had got beyond their foes and were proceeding in the direction of where Howard's camp was supposed to be, the Howard party moved into town and took possession of the courthouse. They have complete control of the town, with pickets stationed at all approaches, and the county judge and his followers have gone into camp outside the town. It is believed that Judge Lewis will endeavor to recapture the courthouse today, and a bloody fight is expected.

A SWINDLING GAME.

Three Chicago Men Who Did a Paying Business.

CHICAGO, October 25.—Algernon Granville, Frank Gerrish and E. H. Clark are under arrest for most palpable and extensive swindling. Thousands of people were robbed. Twelve years ago Granville and Clark organized the Como Printing and Publishing company and issued a weekly paper named "The People's Safeguard." They offered prizes, aggregating $15,000, to persons who would forward a small sum of money and a correct guess of a number of links in a watch chain, a cut of which was published. They had made about $10,000 when arrested on August 28th last. No prizes were paid, though hundreds guessed aright. Postoffice Inspector Fleming found three hundred thousand letters in their office. After being baled out the Imperial Printing and Engraving company was organized. No paper was published this time, but advertisements were inserted in papers all over the country wanting slick man in each county to handle the company's goods done up in packages, ones, fives and tens. Large prizes were offered those willing to take big risks. Letters received were carefully answered, and as a sample of the goods a one dollar bank note was inclosed in each letter. Those who then sent money to buy packages received in return cases of needles in ones, fives and tens. The dupe being a self implicated swindler was afraid to complain.

RECORD OF THE FLAMES.

Large Fire in Tampa—A Manufactory Burned in Paterson, N. J.

TAMPA, Fla., October 25.—A. A. Wood's cigar box factory, the sawmill of the Tampa Lumber company and the machine and car shops of the Tampa Street Railway company were destroyed this afternoon, with their contents, including one locomotive and two coaches. It is supposed the fire was caused by the cigar box factory catching fire from sparks falling on the roof from the smokestack of the adjacent sawmill. The Tampa Lumber company lose $5,000, no insurance; cigar box factory $5,000, insurance $1,500, and the Street Railway company $2,650, insurance $750.

PATERSON, N. J., October 25.—The factory of the Peerless Plush company was totally destroyed by fire yesterday. Loss $65,000.

UTICA, N. Y., October 25.—Fire in Port Ledon this morning destroyed the Douglass opean house and a number of business houses and private residences, causing a loss of over $100,000. All the town records were burned.

MACON, October 25.—[Special.]—Last night a car containing thirty-nine bales of cotton was destroyed by fire on the Georgia Southern and Florida railroad, about seven miles from Macon. The car was en route to Savannah. Loss over two thousand dollars. Insured. It is not positively known how the fire originated. The burning car caused a blockade of trains for some little while.

MR. THURMAN BREAKS DOWN.

While Addressing an Audience, His Strength Fails.

CINCINNATI, October 25.—Hon. Allen G. Thurman did not complete his speech at Music hall last night, but was compelled, on account of a failure of strength, to stop suddenly. Putting his hands to his side he said:

"I would like to have stated more to you, but I am unable to do it. I am getting sick."

His last words were not destinctly heard, and as his son assisted him to his chair, there were few in the hall who knew that he had broken down. As soon as he was able to go he was taken to the hotel, where he could have rest. He regretted this infirmely very greatly because, as he stated afterwards, he had reserved for the closing part of his speech some good words for the democratic candidate for governor. These he was prevented from uttering by his sudden weakness.

Train Wreckers' Work.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., October 25.—A northbound freight on the Lake Erie and Western railroad was wrecked at Kokomo this morning. The engine struck an obstruction at a switch on the outskirts of the city and with eight or ten cars was thrown from the track. Twelve oil tanks exploded in quick succession, setting fire to the box cars attached. Two cars of merchandise and four of coal were consumed. Engineer Mehl, Fireman Edward Murkett, and Head Brakeman John Sherman were thrown between the cars and burned. The accident was the work of wreckers, this being the third attempt made.

Democratic Judges Arrested.

RICHMOND, Va., October 25.—[Special.]—Information was received here tonight that democratic judges had been arrested in Charlotte county charged with committing fraud at the late presidential election.

LIBERTY TROOP WON

IN THE CAVALRY TILT AT THE STATE FAIR.

CONCLUSION OF THE CAVALRY TILT

Interest in the Fir Increasing—The Exhibits All in Place—Incidents of the Day in Macon.

MACON, Ga., October 25.—[Special.]—The attendance today at the state fair was larger than on the two preceding days.

Every train that came into the city this morning was packed with vistors. The regular and extra coaches were packed to their utmost capacity, and so great was the number of passengers that the railroad authorities were astonished. They will be forced to put on additional cars next week, for the reports from southwest Georgia are that every town and all the counties will send great crowds. The farmers are attending the fair in large numbers. They seem to take great pride in the agricultural exhibit. Though the number of visitors is very large, the hotels are serving excellent accommodations and every one is well satisfied.

SUMTER COUNTY.

Not until today did Sumter county get her exhibit entirely arranged. It is in charge of Mr. Ross, one of the most energetic and popular of Sumter's citizens. The display is arranged beautifully, and instantly catches the attention and elicits the admiration of every spectator.

Every known product of Georgia soil, the field and farm, is exhibited, from bales of hay and cotton to peas and beans. This exhibit certainly reflects great credit on Sumter and shows what the grand old county is capable of. An inspection shows that the exhibit is not only large in quantity, but very fine in quality. The beholder is impressed with the extreme cleanliness of the exhibits. There is no trash or dirt visible anywhere.

THE M'INTOSH EXHIBIT.

McIntosh county has one of the most novel and attractive county displays ever seen in Georgia. The exhibit, which is in charge of Messrs. B. T. Sinclair and A. H. Hopkins, is quite a varied one. Among the innumerable articles are thirteen different kinds of hay, banana trees with bunches of the ripening fruit on them, specimens of rice in the sheaf, threshed rice, sugar cane, corn, cotton, sweet potatoes, kegs of McIntosh wines, and a large quantity of coast curiosities, which make a remarkable exhibit.

OTHER EXHIBITS.

There are displays by other counties, and elaborate exhibits by individuals, which will be duly noted in this column as the fair progresses.

The fair is a success, and should be seen by every Georgian.

THE CAVALRY TILT.

There were several special attractions today like bicycle races, ballon ascension, rope-walking, etc., but the leading attraction occured in the afternoon, which was the wind up of the brilliant tournament that commenced yesterday. THE CONSTITUTION this morning published the record and score made by the teams yesterday. The tyros made a slight inaccuracy in an individual score of the Governor's Horse Guard, and the full score of the team is hereby republished: Dozier, 51; Benteen, 48¾; Benson, 27¾; Miller, 37½; Beatle, 42¼. Total, 207½.

This afternoon the different companies formed in front of the Hotel Lanier, and headed by the band of Goodyear, Cook & Dilion's minstrels, paraded the streets to the park, where the tourney was finished.

The first team to run was that of the Macon Hussars, as follows: Captain O. T. Kenan, 22; Henry Hodgkins, 27; Randolph Kenan, 39½; Ben White, 27¾; John Britner, 26. Total, 141¾. This was the first experience of the Hussars in a tournament. The company has been formed only a short while.

The team of the Liberty Independent Troop tilted as follows: Sergeant P. W. Waite, 54; P. F. Martin, 48; H. G. Waite, 58½; J. E. Norman, 56¾; J. N. Allen, 42. Total, 259.

Captain Charles A. King, who has been acting as senior judge, reviewed the troops from the grand stand and awarded the prizes as follows: First team, Liberty Independent Troop, first prize, $600; score 259.

Georgia Hussars, of Savannah, second prize, $300; score 242.

Second team, Liberty Independent Troop, third prize, $160; score 232¾.

H. G. Waite, of the Liberty Independent Troop, won first individual prize of $50; score 58½.

J. E. Norman, of the Liberty Independent Troop, second individual prize, $25; score 56¾.

BADLY HURT.

The first and only accident of the gala week happened this morning to Mr. A. S. Way, one of the team of the Liberty Independent Troop that rode yesterday. While riding his horse on Mulberry street, the animal became fractious and raising up, fell backward, and Mr. Way was thrown upon his temple violently on the hard ground. He was knocked insensible for several minutes, and it was at first feared that he was killed. He recovered consciousness and was carried in a carriage to the Hotel Lanier, to his room, where he was attended by Dr. Ethridge, who found a severe contusion above the right eye. The hurt was severe, but not dangerous, and by careful nursing it is thought that he will shortly recover.

GOVERNOR GORDON.

It is expected that Governor Gordon, and a committee from the senate and house will visit the fair next Wednesday and addresses will be delivered by Governor Gordon, President Du Bigon and Speaker Clay.

THE JUDGES.

Captain King will leave tomorrow some time. Lieutenant Hunter left tonight, and Lieutenant Hodgson will leave in the morning. The judges have been shown numerous courtesies while here. Last night among the civilities shown them was an entertainment tendered at the Southern Cadets armory.

Seeking Investments for Macon.

MACON, Ga., October 25.—[Special.]—Mr. Henry Howe has returned from the north, where he has been perfecting arrangements for the investment of a large sum of northern capital in Macon enterprises. Mr. Howe says his plans and purposes are not fully developed and arranged yet, but as soon as they are, THE CONSTITUTION will be given them in full. One investment alone will require two hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

A Bond Election to Be Held.

MACON, Ga., October 25.—[Special.]—Macon expects soon to hold an election for the issue of bonds for sewerage and paving. An expert from Chicago on sewerage and sanitation is in the city to look into the situation. The people are very anxious for good sewerage and paved streets.

The Woman's Missionary Society.

MACON, Ga., October 25.—[Special.]—Mrs. John B. Cobb, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. W. D. Williams, treasurer, are in Valdosta, attending a meeting of the Woman's Missionary society of the South Georgia conference.

Transferred to Texas.

MACON, Ga., October 25.—[Special.]—Bishop Key has directed the transfer of Rev. C. W. Snow, of Grace church, to Texas, and Mr. Snow will soon leave for his new field of labor.

RECRUITS FOR THE PEN.

The Grist Turned Out by Harris Superior Court.

HAMILTON, Ga., October 25.—[Special.]—The following cases were tried in the superior court of Harris county:

The state against Isham Billingslar, assault with an intent to murder one Dewit Jennings, was found guilty and was sent to the penitentiary for five years.

The state against Richard Marshall, assault with an intent to murder one Jerry Nelson, was found guilty and sent to the penitentiary for five years.

The state against Harry Lowe, burglary in the smoke house of Mrs. Dozier, a widow lady near this place, was found guilty and sent to the penitentiary for five years.

The state against Will Shorter, assault with intent to murder, was found not guilty.

The state against Mr. Will Boyd, for selling goods on Sunday at a camp meeting, plead guilty; was fined $15 to be applied to the payment of the cost.

The state against Mr. E. O'Neal, for carrying concealed weapons, plead guilty and was fined $25, to be applied to the payment of the cost.

The state against George Crools, vagrancy. The state after entering into trial failed to make out the case; was allowed by Judge Smith to go free.

Started on Her Second Century.

WILMINGTON, N. C., October 25.—Mrs. Robert Brown, of this city, celebrated the one hundred and first anniversary of her birth today. She has indisputable record evidence that she was born in Charleston, S. C., October 25th, 1788.

EXPELLED FROM CHURCH.

Three Milton County Females Become Seventh Day Adventists.

ALPHARETTA, Ga., October 25.—[Special.]—Four well known members of the Methodist church here have been expelled for heresy.

They are Mrs. J. M. Howell, Mrs. Rinnie Letson, Mrs. J. M. Dodds and Miss Minnie Dodds.

The story is thus told by the Democrat this week: Some of the members of the Methodist church at this place having indorsed the doctrines preached by the Seventh Day Adventists, a committee was appointed to wait on them and investigate the matter.

DEMANDING A TRIAL.

When approached by the committee five of them withdrew from the church and four demanded a church trial. The five who withdrew are Dr. J. M. Howell, Mr. J. M. Dodds, Mrs. Maud Brooke, Miss Lula Rainwater and Mrs. H. I. Seale. Those who demanded a trial are Mrs. J. M. Howell, Mrs. J. M. Dodds, Miss Minnie Dodds and Mrs. Rinnie Letson. The committee preferred charges against those demanding a trial. The trial was set for Monday, the 21st instant, and was tried before a committee of ten, none of whom are members of the church at this place, but all the other churches in the circuit are represented on the committee. The following is a list of the names of the committee, or jury, before whom the case was tried: W. B. Johns, R. N. Metlock, W. H. Scott, W. G. Scott, Jesse Brooks, Richard F. Bagwell, Stephen R. Douglass, Harvey Douglass, Anderson S. Bell, John W. Nesbitt and Sylvester Nesbit.

The following is a copy of

preferred by the investigating committee:

We, the committee of presentment, having gone through a course of investigation, do hereby charge Mrs. J. M. Howell, Mrs. Rinnie Letson, Mrs. J. M. Dodds, and Miss Minnie Dodds, members of the M. E. church south, at Alpharetta, Ga., 1st with heresy.

Specification 1. They have adopted as their creed Saturday, the seventh day of the week, as the Sabbath, regardless of the position of the M. E. church south on that subject.

Specification 2. They discard the immortality of the wicked, claiming that there is no such thing as continuous punishment of same throughout eternity, despite of orthordox Christianity as held by said M. E. church south.

We, the committee of presentmeut, do hereby charge the aforesaid parties

2. With inveighing against the doctrines of the M. E. church south.

Specification 1. They claim to have the Bible to sustain them in the above doctrine and that the M. E. church south has not the Bible to defend herself against said doctrines, hence it is their opinion that they are right and the said M. E. church south is wrong.

Specification 2. Believing themselves to be right they do not recognize the Sabbath of the M. E. church south, and hence are observing the seventh day of the week (Saturday) as the sabbath. They propose to continue until they are convinced they are in error. They are also confirmed in the belief that the doctrine of the immortality of the wicked, as held by the M. E. church south, is unfounded by the Bible. This, October 15th, 1889.

L. P. BROWN,
D. R. HOOK,
WM. J. WEST.

The four ladies named were duly cut off from membership.

SIMPSON ESCAPES.

He Saws Through Four Bars of One and a Half Inches in Thickness.

COVINGTON, Ga., October 25.—William Simpson, who killed Isham Kelly in January, 1886, and was convicted of manslaughter and sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary, last month,

ESCAPED FROM JAIL

last night. He managed to escape by sawing through four bars of an upper window of the jail, after having sawed out the slot of the bolt to the lock that fastened his cell. The bars through which he sawed are about an inch and a half in diameter, and he had doubtless been

AT WORK ON THEM SEVERAL DAYS.

At night he has been confined in an upper cell, but during the day he has been at times allowed to stay in an entry or hallway on which his cell opened, and by means of which he could gain the ground floor of the jail and converse with those of his friends who came to see him. It is supposed that the saw used by him was by some one through one of the lower windows. After his conviction his counsel made a motion for a new trial. The motion was argued last Monday in McDonough, and Judge Boynton refused a new trial, being satisfied with the verdict of the jury. Simpson learned this on Tuesday, and lost no time in making his escape. One other prisoner, Andrew Bradley, colored, was confined in jail, and he joined Simpson in his flight.

OVER A GALLON JUG.

Camden's Second Bloody Tragedy Within a Week.

BRUNSWICK, Ga., October 25.—[Special.]—The news reached the city today of the second killing which has occurred in Camden county within a week's time. It seems that Lee Hansford and Columbus Stewart, two negro men who live near Owen's ferry, formed a partnership for the purchase of a gallon of whisky. The liquor was secured and carried to Stewart's house, where it was to remain for safe keeping. Thursday Hansford was notified that the jug had been received, so he went over to his neighbor's house to get a drink and have a jolly good time. The men drank long and frequently, and soon both of them were considerably under the influence of the whisky. In the course of the day the men became drunker and drunker. When both of them had taken on as much of the ardent as they could carry, a dispute arose, which soon turned into a fight, during the progress of which Hansford drew a pistol, pointed it at Stewart and pulled the trigger, but the cartridge did not explode. Stewart saw the attempt on his life, and, grabbing a double-barrel shotgun which stood in a corner of the room, fired it, shooting his assailant through the head, scattering his brains about the room and killing him instantly. This is the story Stewart told about the killing, and it was corroborated by his son, who was an eyewitness to the affair. Notwithstanding this, Stewart left soon after the killing, and has not been seen since.

THE DOUGLASVILLE SHOOTING.

Mr. Dink Brantley Promises to Put Another Phase on the Story.

FAIRBURN, Ga., October 25.—[Special.]—Mr. Dink Brantley, who was concerned in the Douglasville shooting, is here, and says:

"In regard to the difficulty between Dr. J. W. Duke and myself, in which a shotgun and pistol were used, the statement that I used Duke's dog with or without his permission, or that I made any threats or tried to use my gun, except in self-defense, is absolutely false. The truth is, I was attacked in a very cowardly manner, my assailant covering me with a pistol before I knew he was about, while he stood with his body concealed behind a door facing. I didn't run, but stood my ground like a man, and only came home to let my people know how the difficulty occurred. I brought with me a letter from responsible parties exonerating me from all blame. I gave bond for my appearance next Monday, when I expect to be able to prove by eye-witnesses all the facts as stated above."

To Make Cedar Pencils.

CRAWFISH SPRINGS, Ga., October 25.—[Special.]—A company has been formed here to manufacture cedar pencils. They intend putting down a track for small cars from the depot to Blaylock's shop. S. T. Osburn is secretary and treasurer.

DAVITT'S CHARGE

THAT PIGOTT INFORMED THE LONDON TIMES

THAT THE LETTERS WERE FORGERIES

And With That Knowledge the Times Published Them as Genuine—Mr. Davitt's Address to the Commission.

LONDON, October 25.—Mr. Michael Davitt resumed his address before the Parnell commission today. He said the landlord system in Ireland should be abolished and land be vested in the state. Eight tenths of the money which came from America for the support of the Irish cause, he declared, came from Irish workingmen and workingwomen. Mr. Davitt denied that there was any alliance between the league and revolutionary organizations in Ireland. He said that Mr. Houston, secretary of the Loyal and Patriotic Union, and his accomplices knew that the letters alleged to have been written by Parnell, which were printed in the Times, were forgeries before Pigott went into the witness box, and it had come to his (Davitt's) knowledge that Pigott had confessed the fact prior to his testifying for the Times.

Chief Justice Hannen interrupted the speaker at this point, saying that the commission could not accept such a statement without evidence being produced to support it.

Mr. Davitt did not press the point, but stated that the allegation would again be made and proved. He said further that the alleged secret circulars produced by the Times to show that the league was a revolutionary organization, were forgeries.

Mr. Davitt proceeded to point out that Parnell, and not he, formed the land league in America. LeCaron, he declared, had failed to prove the assertion that the Clan-na-Gael managed Mr. Parnell's tour in America. No money collected in America had ever been raised to assist the rebellion in Ireland.

PRINCESS SOPHIE IN ATHENS.

The Bride-Elect and Her Mother Received an Enthusiastic Welcome.

ATHENS, October 25.—Ex-Empress Frederick and Princess Sophie arrived at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Their arrival was announced by the firing of a royal salute. They were met at Kalamaki by the king and crown prince. The excitement in this city is intense. The streets have been crowded since daybreak. Princess Sophie appeared on the balcony of the palace surrounded by members of the royal family and received an enthusiastic welcome.

LONDON, October 25.—A dispatch from Constantinople to the Chronicle says: The sultan will not send an envoy to Athens to represent him at the marriage of Princess Sophie, of Prussia, to the duke of Sparta. This decision is said to be due to the objections raised by Greek newspapers to the presence of a Mussulman embassy at a Christian wedding.

More Trouble For Great Britain.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., October 25.—Sir Henry Parks, in a speech here today, said the time had come for the formation of a district parliamentary executive to deal with national questions. He proposed that a convention of delegates from the various colonies be held for the purpose of constructing a federal government on the basis of the federal parliament.

A Battle on the Samoan Islands.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., October 25.—Advices received here from Apia, under date of the 15th inst., state that a battle is reported to have taken place on the island of Savaii between the forces of Mallatoa and Tamazes. Three hundred men were engaged on each side. Several were killed and a number wounded, which party won the victory is not known.

The Explosion on the Cephalonia

LONDON, October 25.—The explosion on board the Cunard steamer Cephalonia, shortly after her departure from Liverpool for Boston yesterday, has resulted more seriously than was at first expected. Three of the men who were injured have died and it is believed that one of the other men who was hurt will not recover.

The Grand Duke Is Sick.

ST. PETERSBURG, October 25.—Grand Duke Peter, nephew of the czar, who was recently married to Princess Militzea, of Montenegro, is suffering from affection of the lungs, and will pass the winter in Egypt. His illness puts an end to the scheme to make him a candidate for the throne of Bulgaria.

GOES TO PENITENTIARY.

Dr. Lewis Griffin Sentence for a Brutal Crime.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., October 25.—[Special.]—Dr. Lewis Griffin, of Cleveland, Tenn., was sentenced to the penitentiary for ten years some time ago, and the sentence was confirmed by the supreme court in session at Knoxville. The crime for which Griffin is to serve a term in the penitentiary was a most atrocious one. He was a physician in good standing, with an attractive family. He is a splendid specimen of physical manhood, standing six feet five inches, and weighing 250 pounds. He was called to attend a frail, delicate girl twelve years of age, and told the mother of the child to send her to his house. Meeting her there he forced her to accompany him to a secluded place, and there compelled her to submit to his fiendish designs. The affair created the most intense sensation at the time, and the case has been vigorously contested by the leading lawyers of this section of the state. The decision of the supreme court is generally commended.

AN IRON CONSOLIDATION.

The Southern Iron Company Takes In Another Furnace.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., October 25.—The Southern Iron company has just added another valuable furnace property to its possession. The sale of the Drouillard iron company, which has been pending for some days, has been consummated, and the property will be owned and operated by the Southern iron company. This peoperty comprises 17,000 acres of mineral and timber lands, lying equi directly from the Cumberland river and Dickson on the Nashville and Chattanooga road, being eight miles from each point. The furnace on the property has been in almost continual use for ten years. A railroad will be built out from Dickson to the property, passing through Charlotte. What immense benefit the road will be to the people of Dickson county can readily be seen, opening up a large amount of territority hitherto without access to the world by rail. The amount paid was $140,000 cash.

THE CHECK WAS WORTHLESS

And Consequently Mr. Bradford Was Arrested.

SAVANNAH, Ga., October 25.—[Special.]—Edward Bradford bought the Savannah theater yesterday for fifty-two thousand dollars. To-day he was arrested for giving a worthless check. His real name is believed to be Ricord as he thoughtlessly signed a check Ricord to-day, and a detective found that his clothes are marked Ricord. He had gone to the Charleston depot when arrested. One check was drawn on a New York bank. The parties who had him arrested felt sorry for him and let him go. The only parties out of pocket are the proprietors of the Pulaski. Ricord is a fine looking, shrewd man of twenty-eight, who looks like Wood, the young man who started to build a magnificent theater in Harlem last summer

The Papers Are Missing.

CHICAGO, October 25.—It is announced this evening that important papers are missing from the states' attorney's office, upon which the county has largely depended to combat the old "boodle" claims, aggregating $250,000. The documents are supposed to have been stolen. They are needed chiefy to fight the bills of Contractor Kellogg, ex-Warden Varnell, ex-Commissioner Fray and the American Stone and Brick Preserving company. The last named claimant is now represented by Lawyer Furthmann, who was assistant state's attorney when the papers were turned over to the present incumbent of the state's attorney's office, Mr. Longenecker. There is no clew as to how the papers disappeared. It is said that unless the missing documents are recovered it may result in the loss of many thousand dollars to the county.

THE RIOT AT NAVASSA.

Some of the Ringleaders Placed in the Baltimore Jail.

BALTIMORE, October 25.—The man-of-war Galena arrived in harbor from Navassa island this afternoon. She had on board nine negroes, eight of whom were engaged in the recent murderous riots there, six of them being instigators and perpetrators of the murders of white bosses. The names of these latter six are: Albert Jones, chief of a lot, whose home is in Philadelphia; Amos Lee, Thomas Welch and George Singleton, of Washington; Henry Jones, of Greenesboro, W. Va., and James Phillips, of Baltimore. Robert Downs and William Jones, both of Baltimore, are also in the party, but they are not deeply involved in the trouble, and will be used as witnesses.

District Attorney Thomas G. Hayes, Chief United States Deputy Marshal Isaac, and several other officials, boarded a tug and went to the warship. The prisoners were put aboard the tug and taken up to Baltimore jail. Lee, Keys, Jones and Welch are accused of murder, and Albert Jones and Phillips of mutiny with intent to kill. When the Galena arrived at Navassa the British war vessel Forward was already there, and her timely coming probably saved the lives of the remaining six white men. The story told by the officers of the Galena regarding the riot is much the same as that already published. One of them said, however, that the white bosses practiced great brutality against the negroes. Robert Downs, one of the two negroes who are to be used as witnesses, contradicts Dr. Smith in one important point. The doctor stated that the first firing was after he and his associates had taken refuge in a house. Downs told a reporter tonight that the first shot was fired in the yard, and that Dr. Smith fired it. Smith had directed Mr. Jones to take charge of James Phillips. The negro resisted, and Dr. Smith fired a load of buck shot into his face. This was the beginning of the fight. The white men ran to the house and continued to shoot, the negroes using stones. Finally Amos Lee resorted to dynamite. Downs says it was Keys who killed Mahon. This was after the whites had surrendered. He saw Keys shoot Mahon in the back and in the forehead. The ringleaders are keeping their own counsel. Admiral Gherardi says the brigs Romance and Alice, with 124 negroes aboard, may not arrive inside of a week.

No One Was Hurt.

VIENNA, Ga., October 25.—[Special.]—On last Friday morning the boiler at Hill Bros.' saw-mill, near Seville, in Wilcox county, was blown up. Not a soul was hurt in the least, as no one was near when it bursted. It seems that all the mill hands had just left the mill for something. There was plenty of water in the boiler, and not over one hundred pounds pressure of steam. A crack had been discovered in the boiler only a day or two before, but they thought it did not amount to a great deal, and paid no particular attention to it. This must have been the cause of the explosion.

It Made Morton Angry.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., October 25.—Secretary Morton, of the Western Baseball association, had a proposition submitted to him today by Mr. Spalding, of Chicago, under which all league and American association clubs would be put in class A, the Western association in class B, and the Atlantic and International association in class C. The higher associations were to have power to take, at a week's notice and a certain fixed price, any player in a minor association. Mr. Morton roasted Mr. Spalding for proposing the scheme and told him every Western association club would aid the brotherhood in case it decided to fight the league. The two men have heretofore been close friends.

Suit Against the Government.

SAVANNAH, Ga., October 25.—[Special.]—Suit has been entered in the United States circuit court against the government to recover $10,000 damages said to have been suffered by plaintiffs to their rice plantations by the construction of the jetties, which diverted the waters of the river so that the plaintiff's plantations overflow. The suit is brought by Messrs. George J. Mills and Henry Taylor. The papers have been forwarded to Macon to be served upon the district attorney as Uncle Sam's next friend.

Seeking Better Fields.

BRAZIL, Ind., October 25.—Within the past week perhaps 200 miners have left Clay county for points in Alabama, Kentucky and elsewhere. Others will leave in time. The offer of five cents reduction below the scale of 1888, as proposed at the mass meeting ten days ago, where also the question of arbitration was reconsidered, has not been accepted by the operators. The latter demand fifteen cents advance.

North Carolina's Foreign Mission Spirit.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., October 25.—[Special.]—The woman's foreign missionary society of the North Carolina Methodist Episcopal conference convened in annual session in Tryon Street Methodist church here tonight. Mrs. R. N. Littlejohn made the address of welcome, which was responded to by Mrs. F. D. Swindell, of Wilmington. The convention will remain in session until next Tuesday.

Fell Dead in a Club Room.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., October 25.—[Special.] Moritz Sax, a prominent and well known young banker, died suddenly of heart disease last night. He went into the Standard club, saying he was feeling very badly, and in a few minutes was much worse. He remarked, "I am dying," and was

ANALLEGED FORGER ARRESTED.

He Presents a Check at the Atlanta National Bank and Is Arrested.

Constable James Sams, of Fairburn, came up and carried back with him J. O. Adams, a young farmer of Campbell county, wanted for forgery.

Last Tuesday night a man walked into Mr. W. T. Roberts's store, in Fairburn, and presented an order for $300 signed by W. T. Glower.

Mr. Roberts honored the order by giving a check on the Atlanta National bank for the amount.

In a day or two Mr. Glower, who is a prominent farmer of Campbell county, came into town, and Mr. Roberts asked him if he had given the order. He said that he had not, and Mr. Roberts telegraphed the Atlanta National to arrest the man who presented the check.

Yesterday morning it was presented by Adams, who represented that he was W. T. Glower, and Mr. McCandless called Patrolman Holland, who arrested him.

The authorities of Campbell county were notified at once, and the sheriff sent Mr. Sams as a deputy after the prisoner.

Adams claimed that a man named G. Bedsell gave him the check, and that he simply called at the bank to collect the money. He submitted to arrest without any grumbling, and was carried to Fairburn on the West Point train.

THE TABLES TURNED.

A Deputy Marshal Makes an Arrest That Delights His Soul.

D. W. Smith, of Franklin county, who accused Deputy Marshal McDonald of assaulting his daughter, is a prisoner in the Fulton county jail, charged with perjury.

Some weeks ago Smith gave information under oath that two of his neighbors were engaged in furnishing illicit stills with corn. The two men were arrested and without difficulty proved their innocence. They then procured a warrant for Smith's arrest for perjury.

The warrant was placed in McDonald's hands and he lost no time in making the arrest. He started for Franklin county Thursday last full of pleasant anticipations, and returned yesterday morning beaming with happiness and bringing Smith with him.

"All things come to those who wait," he saip, "but an opportunity to get square rarely presents itself so opportunely as in the case of McDonald and Smith."

"A Possible Case."

While the subject of divorce can hardly be recommended or indorsed for frivilous treatment on the stage of a theater, yet there are so many absurd and comic sides to the question that there can probably be no harm done in airing the follies and weaknesses of the divorce laws of our country. They form the ground-work upon which Sydney Rosenfeld founded his play, "A Possible Case," which will be soon pre ented in Atlanta. The play is of the same farcical type as those presented by Daly's company; is well written, breezy, satirical, clear cut, full of animation, abounds in clean and keen wit and humor, is refreshing, and as attractive and meritorious a play as one could wish to witness.

Why is it our young ladies do not know how
No matter what the mouth's disease—
How foul the breath or teeth's decay—
With SOZODONT on all we seize,
And swiftly sweep it far away,
Leaving the gums pure, firm and bright,
And the dull teeth as ivory white.

JUMPED FROM A WINDOW

ISAAC KINNEY ESCAPES FROM THE U. S. COURT PRISON ROOM.

Deputy Marshal McDonald Shows His Fleetness and Captures His Man—A Desperate Struggle Which the Marshal Wins.

Pedestrians on Decatur street yesterday morning were surprised to see a man suddenly spring from the building where the United States courts are located, at the corner of North Pryor street, and fly round the corner into the alley which runs through to Wall street.

A second later they were still more surprised to see Deputy Marshal McDonald spring from the same building and fly after him, the marshal's luxuriant whiskers streaming in the wind.

The crowd ran to the corner of the alley and watched pursuer and pursued skim over the ground. The race was short and exciting. When two-thirds of the distance between Decatur and Wall streets had been covered McDonald gave a spring forward and landed on the back of the fugitive.

Both men went to the ground and a desperate struggle followed. It only lasted a few minutes, and then McDonald rose, holding his prisoner by the throat. He led his man back to the court building, and the crowd followed to learn what all the excitement was about.

McDonald explained that the man he had captured in the alley was Isaac Kinney, of Habersham county.

"For several years," he said, "Kinney was a noted moonshiner, and the deputy marshals were kept busy hunting him from one illicit still to another. For months a number of marshals have been on the lookout for him, and the sheriff of Habersham county has also during that time been anxious to get hold of him. He eluded all his pursuers, however, and left his county. Thinking that he would be lost in the big crowd now in Atlanta, he came here, and last Thursday he prepared to leave for the west. He had his trunk checked and was about to board a car when one of the deputy marshals recognized him. He refused to submit when arrested, and fought desperately until a policeman came to the marshal's assistance. Then he was overcome and taken to the United States court for committal.

While waiting for Commissioner Fuller to hear the case he was locked in the prisoner's room, and when an officer came to take him into court it was discovered that he had just succeed in cutting the lock from the door. He was placed in Fulton county jail until yesterday morning, the time set by Mr. Fuller to listen to the charges against him.

The damage to the door was repaired and when taken to the courthouse yesterday morning he was locked in the same room he occupied the night before. A new locked had been put on and he was considered safe. A half an hour later McDonald stepped into the hall just in time to see Kinney squeeze his body through the transom over the door and run for the stairs. McDonald started after him and affected his capture.

When brought back he was immediately taken into court and committed to the Fulton county jail to await trial. When the United States authorities have done with will him he be turned over to the sheriff of Habersham county who has several warrents against him.

Kinney swears he will yet escape. He is, however, being watched closely and will be left in no more rooms with transoms over the door.

Personal.

Anderson, George C. Selman, jr., R. J. Lowry, William Lohinyen and A. McD. Wilson respectfully shows that they desire to have themselves, and such others as may be associated with them, incorporated under the name and style of "The American Match Company." The object of said incorporation is to manufacture, buy and sell friction matches, materials and machinery of all kinds used in the manufacture of matches, boxes and cases and woodenware of all description and all such other articles as are commonly manufactured, bought and sold by like establishments.

The amount of capital stock of said corporation to be twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000), which is to be paid in before commencing business, and they ask the privilege of increasing said capital stock to an amount not exceeding one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) upon a vote of a majority of the stock of said corporation.

The place of business of said corporation to be in Fulton county, Georgia, with the right to establish branch offices and agencies in such other places as they may deem best for the interest of said corporation.

To this end the petitioners desire the power to hold property, real and personal, to sue and be sued, to have a corporate seal, to make by-laws for the government of said corporation and to exercise and have all other powers and rights commonly conferred upon like corporations not in conflict with the laws of this state or of the United States.

Petitioners pray the granting of an order by the court incorporating them and their successors for the purposes hereinbefore set forth for and during the term of twenty years with the privilege of renewal at the expiration of said time.

And petitioners will ever pray.

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, causing distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet efficiently. It tones the stomach, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, banishes headache, and refreshes the mind.

WEST & GOLDSMITH,

A RARE CHANCE.

RARE CHANCE FOR A LOVELY SUBURBAN Home or Homes—As my business calls me elsewhere, and as I desire to pay every dollar of my indebtedness before leaving Atlanta, I have very reluctantly decided to sell my beautiful Edgewood home at once, either as a whole or subdivided for portions thereof. I have had an expert engineer to carefully survey and plat the same, and will sell at a bargain, the most magnificent suburban lots in the south at a sacrifice. The property is my home place, near Atlanta, occupied this spring and summer by Mr. Hugh T. Inman and family, adjoining the lovely homes of Senator Colquitt, Major Tom Walker, J. H. Snook and others, and very near the justly celebrated Moreland Park Military school. It is immediately on the Fulton County Electric railway, about 200 yards from Pendleton station, on the R. & D. R. R., and very near the Georgia R. R. and the Atlanta and Edgewood Electric railway. The place is a twelve-acre grove of native oak, hickory, elms and pines, interspersed with pecans five years old; also a lovely rose garden and granite pit for hothouse plants. The grove is set in blue and orchard grass, and is gently rolling in every direction from the house. It is the highest point in Edgewood, overlooking the city of Atlanta, and is pronounced by everyone to be the ideal suburban home of Fulton county. A magnificent 60-foot well of water through solid granite is on the place and sparkling springs in Copenhill park, 100 feet from the property. The house is a good, substantial country house, strong and solid, containing ten large and four small rooms, two large, wide halls, a deep granite wine cellar and a cold storage cellar, single or double closets in every room and 300 feet of wide, massive veranda, with lovely views in every direction. The place as a whole cannot be duplicated in the south, and nature has so laid it off that it can be subdivided and built on so as to make the whole a most beautiful residence park and yet the distinct and separate home of a dozen or more families. This property must be sold immediately. Several lots already spoken for by unexceptional parties. No objectionable parties can buy a lot at any price. The electric railway is about completed, and will in a few days be making regular trips. I will be glad to show the property at any time, and a note addressed to me care Talmadge house, Atlanta, or care Rosser & Carter, over Merchants' bank, Alabama street, will be promptly received, or telephone No. 1,232, three calls, at my residence. Don't procrastinate a day, but call and see this property before it is sold, for it is the chance of a lifetime to procure a home that you will never grow weary of, but will love more and more every day. WILLIAM M. PENDLETON.

MEDICAL.

A Fact

WORTH knowing is that blood diseases which all other remedies fail to cure, yield to Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Fresh confirmation of this statement comes to hand daily. Even such deep-seated and stubborn complaints as Rheumatism, Rheumatic Gout, and the like, are thoroughly eradicated by the use of this wonderful alterative.

Mrs. R. Irving Dodge, 110 West 125th street, New York, certifies:—

"About two years ago, after suffering for nearly two years from rheumatic gout, being able to walk only with great discomfort, and having tried various remedies, including mineral waters, without relief, I saw by an advertisement in a Chicago paper that a man had been relieved of this distressing complaint, after long suffering, by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I then decided to make a trial of this medicine, and took it regularly for eight months. I am pleased to say that it effected a complete cure, and that I have since had no return of the disease."

Mrs. L. A. Stark, Nashua, N. H., writes: "One year ago I was taken ill with rheumatism, being confined to my house six months. I came out of the sickness very much debilitated, with no appetite, and my system disordered in every way. I commenced to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla and began to improve at once, gaining in strength and soon recovering my usual health. I cannot say too much in praise of this well-known medicine."

"I have taken a great deal of medicine, but nothing has done me so much good as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I felt its beneficial effects before I had quite finished one bottle, and I can freely testify that it is the best blood-medicine I know of."—L. W. Ward, Sr., Woodland, Texas.

PLANTERS HOTEL.

THIS OLD AND POPULAR HOTEL, OF ANTEbellum days, is so well and favorably known, that it is almost unnecessary to mention Augusta, Ga., as the city where it is located. Before the Kimball house was known, the Planters was the finest hotel in the south, and today has lost none of its past prestige. Some of the crown heads of Europe have sheltered their heads beneath its hospitable ro f, and the great men of the past and today delight to do her honor. Augusta is coming to the front very fast as a winter resort, and the Planters' is doing her part well by overhauling, re-furnishing and re-carpeting. The commercial traveler delights to stop at the Planters. Mr. Camp, the new proprietor, is an Atlanta man, and is keeping the Planters in strictly first-class style. He now has a fine orchestra for the season. Try the Planters.

GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY.—TO THE SUperior court of said county: The petition of Jacob Haas, A. M. Shomo, S. A. Ryan, P. H. Snook, C. L. Anderson, F. M. Scott, W. S. Bell, A. G. Rhodes, John Stephens, G. B. Everett, J. B. Redwine, T. J. Pelzer, W. M. Scott, W. A. Hemphill, A. C. Bruce, W. J. Van Dyke and J. E. Morris, of Atlanta, Geo.; Frank Lanier, of West Point, Ga., and W. R. Bryan, of Sioux Falls, Dakota, shows: That they desire for themselves, their associates and successors to be incorporated under the name and style of "The Georgia Real Estate and Investment Company."

That the object of said association is to engage in business for the pecuniary benefit of its members; to buy, sell, improve, lease, rent and otherwise deal in real estate in the state of Georgia; to handle all kinds of investment securities; to negotiate real estate mortgages, to lend money on such security (either real real estate or any other kind) and upon such terms and in such manner as the stockholders or directors of said company may determine; and should the same at any time be deemed necessary or expedient, to borrow money, either by issuing bonds or by any other means or in any other manner deemed prudent and best.

That said company is to have its principal place of business in the city of Atlanta, state and county aforesaid, but they desire that it shall have the power to employ agents or representatives whenever the same may be necessary in order to properly conduct its business in other towns and counties of this or other states. That the capital stock of said company is to be fifty thousand ($50,000) dollars, but the privilege of increasing the same at any time to an amount not greater than two hundred thousand ($200,000) dollars is desired, provided the said increase be first consented to by the holders of two-thirds of the entire number of shares; that said stock is to be divided into shares of the par value of one hundred ($100) dollars each, which after subscribed is to be paid in in monthly installments of five dollars per share; the first payment to be made on such a day after the organization of the company as the directors thereof may require; but the amount of said monthly installment may be made less or greater than the sum above named, whenever by a vote of the holders of a majority of the shares it may be so determined; that the said company is not to begin business until at least one hundred shares shall have been subscribed, and the first installment thereon paid in.

That it is desired that the shareholders in said company shall at annual meetings—the time and place of which are to be fixed by them—elect a board of directors and confer upon the same the power to elect such officers and adopt such by-laws, rules and regulations as may be necessary for its government, not inconsistent with the laws of said state, or of the United States, and that the conduct of the business of said company shall be entirely in the hands of said board of directors.

That they desire that said company have the power to sue and be sued, to have and use a common seal, and to do all such acts as may be necessary for the legitimate execution of its powers, and to have the privilege of receiving in payment for stock either money or its equivalent in such property as may be used by the company, and generally to exercise and perform all such matters and things and to have all such powers and authority that may be necessary for the carrying out the purposes of the said company, and any and all other and further powers, privileges and rights, incident to such corporations under the laws of the state of Georgia said honorable court granting this their application and that they and their successors be incorporated for and during the term of twenty years with the privilege of renewal at the expiration thereof, for the purposes herein before set forth.

And your petitioners will ever pray, etc.

DACEY WHIPS MACEY.

THE BIG MAN KNOCKED OUT IN THE THIRD ROUND.

A Large and Enthusiastic Audience at Concordia Hall Sees a Pretty But Short Fight —Macey Badly Punished.

The mill between Macey and Dacey at Concordia hall last night afforded less than twenty minutes' fun for a large audience of Atlanta merchants, lawyers, doctors, bankers, clerks and other admirers of the manly art.

Billy Taylor, the well-known baseball player, was referee.

Dacey knocked Macey "silly" at the opening of the third round.

The blows which sent Macey to grass were wicked, vicious and so rapidly given that he did not have time to escape. He was clearly knocked out, and for a few seconds had the appearance of a dying man.

The two men walked upon the stage a few minutes after 9 o'clock, and were greeted with applause. Dacey took a chair in the right hand corner, near the front of the stage, while Macey sat down in the rear left hand corner. A minute later Macey advanced to the front, saying:

"I understand that Billy Taylor, the well known baseball player, is in the audience, and I would like to have him referee this mill."

As he finished, Macey glanced toward Dacey.

"Oh, that suits me," said Dacey, without getting out of his chair.

"This is a fight for fun," said Macey, still standing in front of the stage, "and nobody will get any money. Win or lose, it's nothing."

The crowd began guying the pugilistic orator.

"Oh, shut up; anybody can make that noise," he said, returning to his corner.

Taylor, as big and fat as when he tried to put the ball over the plate in the palmy days of the Southern league, stepped upon the stage and turning to the audience said:

"This fight, as I understand it, is for blood and money, fifteen rounds."

"To a finish," put in Dacey from his corner.

"Oh, then to a finish," said Taylor.

Then stepping back Taylor said:

"Gentlemen, shake hands."

The two fighters met in the center of the stage and grasped gloved hands. Then they returned to their chairs and sat down. At ten minutes past nine o'clock the referee called time, and the men went together.

Dacey sprang at Macey like a whirlwind, but received a stinging blow which sent him down. In an instant Dacey was upon his feet, and as he came up gave Macey a terrible blow in the breast, which staggered him. Then for a minute it was a give and take fight. The round closed with Macey chasing Dacey around the stage.

As the men went to their corners it was apparent that Macey was in finer condition than when he faced Dacey before. He was lighter, quicker and harder and had better wind. That he had the best of the round no one doubted.

The second round began with the audience equally divided. It was 9:14, and Macey began pushing his advantage. He took the licks Dacey rained upon his breast and stomach and gave hard ones in return. Then the two men locked, Macey getting his arm about Dacey's neck and trying to pound him in the face with an upper cut.

"Break away!" yelled Referee Taylor.

"Break away!" echoed the audience.

Macey again drove Dacey around, but received hard punishment in doing it. He gave Dacey several stinging blows—one square on the mouth which brought the blood. The round closed. Macey's second claimed a foul, but the foul was not allowed and no one appeared to know upon what the claim was based.

"I give Mr. Macey first blood," said Referee Taylor, as the men sat down.

"And first knock down," said Macey's second.

"Yes, first knock down in first round," said Taylor.

The round gave Macey stock a boom, and when, at 9:13, the timekeeper called time, the big man was the favorite.

But it didn't last long.

As the words dropped from the timekeeper's mouth Dacey went for his opponent like a cyclone. He sprang entirely across the stage, and almost before Macey was out of his chair gave him a right-hander under the jaw. Then a second and a third one fell upon the same spot before Macey could move. The licks were terrific, and turned the big man entirely around. In a lump he sank upon the floor near the ropes. He turned upon his back and his eyes began to take on a "set look." That he was in great pain everybody saw.

"Watch your time, Mr. Timekeeper," yelled Taylor.

Macey turned upon his side and made an effort to get up. He got upon his hands and knees, but his arms gave away and he sank back upon the floor. Again he essayed to get up, and as he raised both hands from the floor, Dacey gave him another, which sent him back.

"Foul! I claim a foul," said Macey's second.

"No foul," said Taylor, "he was on one knee and had both hands up."

"That ain't any foul," yelled some one in the audience.

"Yes it is," he was answered.

Again Macey tried to get up.

"Watch him, Ed," cried Dacey's second. "Touch him when he gets them hands off the floor!"

All this time Taylor was waiting for the timekeeper to call time.

But the timekeeper didn't understand the rules, and waited for the three minutes to expire, instead of giving Macey ten seconds to get upon his feet. The three minutes—more than one hundred and twenty seconds more than Macey should have had—went by, and still he could not get up. When the timekeeper called time it was three minutes after the round began, and Taylor awareed the fight to Dacey, saying:

"That man's knocked out, and I declare Mr. Dacey winner of the fight and champion of Georgia."

"Who's knocked out?" exclaimed Macey in a dazed way.

"You are," yelled the audience.

Macey was deranged by the blow. He groveled around and tried to get up, but couldn't. Finally, after the fight had been awarded, he got upon his feet and made an attempt to reach Dacey, but was prevented.

He walked across the stage staggering to his dressing room.

Mr. W. C. White is an engineer on a boa on the Arkansas river, and his address is Little Rock. He says that S. S. S. has relieved him of blood poison, which was the result of malaria, and that it prevents chills and fever by toning up the system. He takes it in the spring and summer months to prevent sickness from the malaria of the swamps on the river.

All Say the Same Thing.

LODI, Marion county, Tex., March 3, 1887.—Mr. A. K. Hawkes: Dear sir—I have tried your glasses on different persons with weak eyes. They all say they are the best they ever saw. I have learned considerable of the difference in glasses. Very respectfully, JOHN McLEAN.

A. K. Hawkes, optician, in the Kimball house, inventor and proprietor of these celebrated lenses, will adjust them to all conditions of the sight without extra charge. 19 Decatur street. These glasses are not sold on the Exposition grounds.

Come to Hoyt & Thorn's and get a cup of fine Rijamo Coffee.

What Duffy Did With the Prize Bread.

EDITORS OF THE CONSTITUTION: Gentlemen—Please publish the following postal card that I received this morning through the mail. I thought all the cranks in Atlanta were dead, but I see by the following card there is one here yet.

DEAR SIR: Why did you take the ladies bread from them? They bought the flour from you and paid for it; it was a dirty trick—yes, stealing. CUSTOMER.

J. J. DUFFY, ESQ.—Dear Sir: Please accept thanks for the prize bread you so kindly sent us; our wish is you may long live to carry off the palm. Yours truly, P. E. BROWN, Manager Providence Infirmary.

MR. DUFFY—Thanks very much for the nice box of bread. Respectfully, R. HUNTER, October 23, 1889. Matron K. D. Hospital.

MR. J. J. DUFFY—Sir: I have just received your handsome donation of bread, for which please accept thanks.

MRS. M. E. DAVIS, Matron Home for Friendless.

October 23, 1889.

MR. J. J. DUFFY, 75 Peachtree Street.—Dear Sir: It gives me very great pleasure to say that your "Superlative" flour was used in making the cake which took the first prize, $10, offered by Mr. Lovan, for best cake made with C. O. P. lard, two good articles combined, which I heartily recommend. With best wishes and the assurance that Duffy and his "Superlative" flour will always give satisfaction, I remain, Very respectfully,

CLARA WATKINS.

J. J. DUFFY, ESQ., City—Dear Sir: Please accept my thanks for the inclosed $25 premium just received, award for your flour. It is the best I have ever worked, and in fact, the easiest, as also the whitest. Altogether it gave me more than satisfaction by its more than uniform results. Again please accept my thanks. Respectfully yours, etc.,

MRS. MARY MUSSA.

AT THE THEATER.

Ezra Kendall presented his rollicking absurdity, "A Pair of Kids," at the opera house last night to a good audience despite the rainy weather. The play and player are well known here. You have "horse-play" in its most ludicrous and exaggerated form. It was to such plays as this that the term owes its origin, and for some reason, not altogether explainable, "horse-play" seems to suit them exactly.

Giles Button is the central figure of "A Pair of Kids." By the aid of numerous stage appliances he succeeds in keeping his audience in a continual laugh. The people know what to expect when they go to see Ezra Kendall and they enjoy themselves accordingly.

Of the cast, Mr. Kendall and Miss Jennie Dunn were the especial favorites. The other parts are in good hands and the play went along smoothly.

"A Pair of Kids" today at matinee and night performances.

Louis James as Othello.

From the New York Evening Telegram, September 25th, 1889.

Mr. Louis James thrilled his auditors at the Windsor theater, last evening, by the intensity of passion displayed in his conception of Othello. His bursts of jealousy possessed an absolute fiendishness which awed while they provoked admiration. His support was superb, Mr. F. C. Mosley doing excellent work as Iago, and fairly sharing the honors of the evening with the star. Miss Mabel Amber was a charming Desdemona, depicting the love and despair of the unhappy heroine with a graceful simplicity which won all hearts.

Scanlan and the Chinee.

During Scanlan's recent engagement in Washington the Chinese legation occupied two of the boxes on the opening night. They applauded the songs and laughed heartily at some of the Irish witticisms. A comedian who can succeed in making the meek, almond-eyed celestials laugh need have no fear of his powers upon the rest of mankind.

A VETERAN TELLS ABOUT S. S. S.

"I was wounded in the leg at the battle of Stone River, December 31st, 1862. My blood was poisoned from the effects of the wound, and the leg swelled to double its natural size, and remained so for many years. The poison extended to my whole system, and I suffered a thousand deaths. Nothing did me any good until I took Swift's Specific, which took the poison out of my blood, and enabled me to feel myself a man again. S. S. S. is the remedy for blood poison."

JOHN CONWAY, London, O.

"For thirty years I was afflicted with blood poison, from which I suffered untold agonies. I commenced taking S. S. S., and after using five bottles, I am entirely cured." WILLIAM SCHENCK, Flushing, L. I.

"I suffered for twenty years from blood poisoning. Three bottles of Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) cured me entirely. CATHERINE MOSHER, Mineola, L. I.

"For about eight years I was afflicted with a running sore on my leg that gave me a great deal of pain and no end of trouble and inconvenience. I was treated by the leading physicians of this section, but without receiving any benefit, the sore growing gradually worse. Last summer I concluded to try Swift's Specific (S. S. S.), and in a short time my leg was sound and well. There have been no signs of a return since."

We beg leave to inform the public that with increased facilities, we are prepared to supply the demand for the justly celebrated lager beer brewed by our company from the best Canadian malt, choice Bohemian, Bavarian and California hops, free to all for inspection at our brewery, corner Harris street and Courtland avenue.

We Solicit the Patronage of the Trade THROUGHOUT THE SOUTH.

IDEAL BROILING.

Broiling can be done in the oven of the Charter Oak Range or Stove with the Wire Gauze Oven Door, more perfectly than over the live coals.

Lay the steak, chops, ham or fish on a wire broiler or meat rack, placing it in an ordinary bake pan to catch the drippings.

Allow it to remain in the oven with the door closed 15 or 20 minutes. No turning is required. At the end of this time it will be found nicely cooked ready to serve. THIS IS THE IDEAL WAY TO BROIL MEATS.

There is no taint of coal-gas or smoke, and the meats are more tender and better in flavor than those broiled over the coals. The convenience or broiling in the oven will be appreciated by every house-keeper, and adds another to the many reasons why the Charter Oak Range or Stove with the Wire Gauze Oven Door should be preferred to all others now in the market.

SEND FOR ILLUSTRATED CIRCULARS AND PRICE LISTS.

The Negro at the North.

Governor Hill's remarks about the south, on his return home, do not set well on the stomachs of some of the republican editors.

What seems to have most impressed Governor Hill, as it has also impressed other northern observers, is the fact that there is less genuine race prejudice at the south than at the north. There the negroes are crowded out of every employment and every means of earning an honest livelihood except in the most menial positions. They can do whitewashing, peddle charcoal, scrub and clean out. Once they could drive the carriages of the wealthy, as they now do at the south. They could even engage in the cab business, and they seemed to be indispensable as waiters in restaurants; but now all this is changed. They have been gradually crowded out by the prejudices of the northern whites until now their condition would be intolerable had they not become hardened to it.

No observant person can travel over the two sections without being struck with the difference between the negroes of the two sections, and by the attitude of the whites toward them. In Georgia, and wherever he went in the south, Governor Hill saw the negroes engaged in almost every branch of industry. He saw them as mechanics, working side by side with the white mechanics; he saw, or could have seen, negro contractors employing both white and black labor. In short, he saw a condition of affairs here totally different from that to which he is accustomed in the north, so far as the status of the degro is concerned.

The Boston Transcript, commenting on this, says the explanation of it is that the industrial progress of the south is gradually wearing away race prejudice. Such a statement could only be based on gross misconception of the situation. Race prejudice, as the north understands and practices it, never has existed in the south. There have been outbreaks and outrages that seem to give a color to the northern view, but they bear no more relation to the attitude and policy of the white people of the south than the race riots in Ohio bear to the policy of New England.

The race prejudice at the south is (or would be, but for outside interference) a friendly intention, common to both races, to hold themselves apart from each other in all their social relations. The race prejudice at the north is based on a desire to drive the negro into corners where the whites will not come in contact with them.

Out in Ohio.

It may be that we are inclined to make too much of the campaign the democrats are making in Ohio, but it is such a pleasant thing to dwell on, when we remember the various fizzles that have been made by the people's party in that state.

As a matter of fact, the party there seemed to be too dead to skin. It was cold and stiff when Campbell was nominated, and everybody thought that Foraker, with his intense methods and bristling temper, would have a walk-over. But the campaign on the part of the democrats has been a series of surprises.

The moment Mr. Campbell took the stump he began to warm the party up. The dead affair began to breathe and glow and stretch itself. Then it got on its feet, and finally it began to hustle the republicans as they have never been hustled in that state before.

Mr. Campbell did the work, and he is still doing it. After breathing life into the democratic party, he proceeded to jump on the republican party with both feet. He pounded it, mashed it, and routed it. Editor Halstead took water, but did it in a manly way, as if he thought it wasn't very wet, after all, and then Foraker took to his bed.

The election is only a few days off and Campbell is still loaded. He is loaded for mules, grizzlies, or any other kind of republican game that crosses his path. This seems to be so well understood in Ohio that the republican orators are getting to cover, and the republican editors are keeping their hands off him.

The democrats ought to win, but, win or lose, Mr. Campbell has made a magnificent campaign—a memorable campaign, indeed.

Blaine's Big Schemes.

It is quite likely that all this recent talk about territorial expansion is the work of the newspaper correspondents, but it is safe to say that Secretary Blaine would gladly carry out some of the plans credited to him upon the slightest encouragement.

According to the latest story, our government will open negotiations for the purchase of Cuba, for a good round sum, say $300,000,000, and establish a protectorate over Hayti, San Domingo and the Hawaiian group of islands. Undoubtedly all these bits of land would in the long run be very useful to the United States. Their products would swell our national wealth, and in time of war it would be to our advantage to control them in order to prevent the enemy from having coaling stations and depots of supplies right under the wings of the American eagle.

But, if we acquire the West Indian and the Hawaiian islands, in what manner shall they be governed? This question is answered by one of the annexationists. It is suggested that it would be a good idea to add the Pacific islands to California under the name of "Hawaiian county," and then add to Florida the counties of "Cuba," "Hayti" and "San Domingo." In this way the two states named would rapidly Americanize their new territory, and the evils of federal reconstruction, as illustrated in the south after the war, would be avoided.

The advocates of the alleged Blaine scheme, instead of seeing new race problems involved in this business, claim that it will settle the problems we are now grappling with by opening an irresistibiy inviting field in which millions of southern blacks will establish themselves under the protection of our flag.

There are two sides to the question. We have about as much territory and about as many problems as we can well handle. Perhaps it would be well not to take any more races under our flag until we learn how to govern and make good citizens of those who are already enjoying the privileges of American citizenship.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

About Mr. Beutell's Postoffice.

EDITORS CONSTITUTION: In yesterday's CONSTITUTION was a card from Mr. H. M. Beutell, of Atlanta, in reference to a report concerning some work done by him at the capitol.

The facts are these: The house passed a resolution authorizing the clerk to have a postoffice constructed in the cloakroom adjoining the hall of representatives. No price was fixed, or named, in the resolution. The clerk of the house had Mr. Beutell to do the work. When the work was finished Mr. Beutell presented a bill for $168.

There was a "considerable kick," Mr. Beutell to the contrary notwithstanding. In the course of discussion it was pointed out that if the house refused to pay the bill the clerk would have it to pay. Nobody was disposed to blame the clerk. It would have been an injustice to pay half of the bill only, as was proposed in a resolution introduced then, for the clerk would have to pay the balance; so the resolution finally passed to pay the full amount.

In the senate the bill was cut down to $75—less than half.

When the question came up in the house on agreeing on the senate amendment, it was again urged on behalf of the clerk that if the house didn't pay the full amount the clerk would have to pay the balance. After another "considerable kick" the house refused to concur. The senate again took action on the matter, and insisted on its amendment cutting the bill to $75. So the matter rests.

In his card yesterday, Mr. Beutell puts in a denial statement that his bill was "considered exorbitant." He states for himself that the "price was passed upon by the house before the work was begun." This latter statement is untrue. The house had no idea what the bill would be until it was presented after the work was done—hence the "considerable kick." The report did not state that Mr. Beutell deliberately took advantage of the fact that no price was fixed in the resolution to present an "exorbitant bill." It was stated in a very mild and very charitable fashion that the bill was "considered exorbitant."

The action of the house in finally passing the resolution to pay the full amount cannot be construed as an expression of their opinion that the bill was not exorbitant. As a matter of equity to the clerk (not to Mr. Beutell) the bill should be paid in full.

A resolution to sum up was introduced in the house to cut the bill one-half. The senate insists on putting the bill at $75—less than half.

And it is hardly necessary to reaffirm here that the bill was "considered exorbitant."

GLEN WATERS.

II.

EDITORS CONSTITUTION: Below my proposition, together with contract and explations, will be found. H. M. BEUTELL.

III.

ATLANTA, Ga., July 15th, 1889.—Hon. M. A. Hardin, Statehouse, City—Dear Sir: I hand you plan as requested for letter department, the same to be enclosed with panel and door work, made of cherry and polished, all to compare with furniture in department where same will be located, also a neat wire guard to set on top of panel work.

Completing the above for the sum of one hundred and sixty-eight dollars ($168). Very truly,

H. M. BEUTELL.

IV.

ATLANTA, Ga., July 29th, 1889.—H. M. Beutell: Dear Sir: As per your letter of July 15th, proposing to build a letter file and enclosure, you will proceed at once to act at a cost of $168. Yours,

M. A. HARDIN, Clerk.

V.

ATLANTA, Ga., October 25th, 1889.—Editors Constitution: The statement of Mr. Beutell in your issue of October 23rd, that his bid of $168 for the house postoffice was accepted and contract made before the work was begun are correct.

M. A. HARDIN.

VI.

ATLANTA, Ga., October 25, 1889.—Mr. H. M. Beutell—Sir: In regard to the postoffice resolution offered by me, will say it passed the house about July 10th. Your plans and specifications were submitted together with your bid of $168 on July 15th, after consultation with several members of the house and clerk, the contract was awarded to you at $168. While the price was not submitted to the house, still my resolution passed the house ordering the work done, and I, together with several of the members, considered the price for such work reasonable.

W. T. SMITH, of Gwinnett.

Mr. Huff's Plan.

From the Augusta News.

Representative Huff appears to be one of the few broad gauged and rapid transit men of the Georgia legislature. He is also in favor of short cut and compromises on business questions, and it i said that he proposes to offer a plan today in the legislature which may settle the entire lease question, betterments and all. If so, he will redeem the reputation of the legislature as a practical body and will have done the state great service.

He will offer, it is said, a proposition looking to a conference or tribunal to settle the lease puzzle, and it is said that the practical solution will consist in an agreement of the lessees to withdraw their claims for betterments if the legislature will lease the State road to the Louisville and Nashville railroad for twenty years at $35,000 a month. As this saves the state a big pile of money or a probable lawsuit, and as it adds $10,000 a year to the State road revenues, it would be seen to be the part of wisdom and business sense to seize such a solution of the question without parley, comment or argument.

We will now see what the Georgia legislature will do with a practical question like this.

The Bartlett Bomb.

From Augusta Evening News.

What the Atlanta Journal is pleased to designate as the Bartlett bomb, is liable to prove a boomering. The resolution introduced by the senator clearly proves that he is unfit for his high office, and we believe the people of Georgia, outside the present legislature, will agree with us. We base our opinion simply on his own resolution, which contains enough prejudice to prevent any man's presuming to represent anybody but himself.

Senator Bartlett offered a resolution based on the lease conference committee report, and, after designating the claim of the State road lessees as "unjust, extravagant, not authorized by the lease contract or the law, nor in accordance with any principle of natural equity or justice," he resolves all by himself that the state owes the lessees nothing and that the legislature shall neither "consider, confer or consult with them, nor recognize or pay the same or any part thereof; and not constitute any court or tribunal to hear and determine the same."

He goes on to declare that if the lessees remove anything from the road, that the lease shall be declared forfeited, and the state shall take charge of the road. He even goes so far as to ask the governor to order the attorney general to find out if the lessees are not personally liable, and if not, that a bond be required of them to compel them to keep the road in its present condition until the lease expires, and if this is not done in thirty days the lease to be dec ared forfeited.

Of course, no such resolution was ever heard of before and no such resolution was hardly expected, even from a Georgia legislator, but it seems that the dizzy height of folly is not yet attained in the new capitol on the Piedmont escarpment. Such sentiments are as sweeping as they are prejudiced, and it needs no argument to prove it. How different from the well tempered and simple speech of Hon. Joseph B. Cumming, the attorney for the lessees. He clearly showed that even from the legislative standpoint a conference, a consultation or consideration of the question is necessary, or that some tribunal must be established to settle the lease question even on matters not disputed by the legislature. How ridiculous, therefore does Senator Bartlett appears in the light of his own resolution, and how unworthy is he to pose as a representative of a great state, when his mind refuses to accept any conclusion or any view but that which is buried in the narrow wal s of pre'udice.

Senator Bartlett's resolution was referred to a committee, and when it comes up for consideration we shall see how many senators and representatives are able to sit on the same platform, which is as narrow as a knife blade and just about as uncomfortable.

Confederate Home Bids.—The contractors' bids for the construction of the confederate veterans' home will be opened today, and orders will be given to the contractor who has made the lowest offer to begin work at once. Judge Calhoun yesterday issued the following call:

ATLANTA, October 25, 1889.—The committee on building will please meet Saturday morning at 11 o'clock, in the ordinary's office, to open bids for the construction of the confederate veterans' home.

W. L. CALHOUN, Chairman.

"Something New to Them."—"Isn't it strange," remarked a Kimball house employe, "how many people there are who have never seen an elevator?"

Just then three ladies, all apparently from the country, walked into the corridors from the ladies' entrance and took their stand by the elevator, which was taking on its load of passengers. As the car shot upward, the visitors gazed in open-mouthed wonderment.

"Wha-wha-what do you reckon does it?" one of them gasped.

"Pshaw, I know," volunteered the oldest of the three. "You see that rope? When the boy pulls that he lets in the air from the bottom and that forces the elevator up. It's what you call a pewmatic tube."

The others were satisfied and left.

Will Meet Tonight.—The Southern Travelers' association will hold an important meeting tonight in their rooms in the Gate City bank building. Some business of importance will be brought up and a full attendance is desired.

He Is in Town.—Mr. W. J. Norris, of Warrenton, is in the city at the Johnson house. Mr. Norris accompanied a large delegation of Warrentonians down to see the exposition. He is proprietor of the Warrenton hotel, and has many friends in Atlanta who will be glad to see him.

Resting and Spooning.—Every day this week the capitol has been full of strangers, who think the new building a part of the exposition. A great proportion of the visitors have been young men and maidens, whose thoughts are evidently turned toward love and matrimony. These couples invariably visit the dome, and sometimes three or four pairs can be seen sitting on the spiral staircase resting and spooning.

A Georgia Poet.—Charles J. Bayne, the well-known writer of short poems, arrived in Atlanta yesterday from his home at Sandersville. Mr. Bayne's friends knew that he had been suffering from an attack of typhoid fever, and they were delighted to see him well enough to be about again.

Death of a Baby.—Policeman Abbott's little boy, four months old, died at midnight. The little fellow had been sick only a few days.

CARRIED TO COWETA.

A Negro Charged With Assault With Intent to Murder.

Mr. J. T. Mayfield, deputy sheriff of Coweta, came up from Coweta county after Henry Hines, a negro charged with stealing cotton and for an attempt to murder.

The case is a remarkable one.

Henry Hines is a negro who lives six miles below Newnan. He was captured stealing cotton on October 8, and he agreed to take a whipping rather than stand a prosecution.

A party of citizens took him out and gave him a sound thrashing. The whipping was well done, according to the testimony of parties present.

After the whipping had gone on for some time the negro cried enough, and began to yell lustily. It was nearly sunrise then, and the men who had charge of the whipping told him that if he would leave the community they would release him. He promised and was turned loose.

On the night of the 9th, J. W. Todd and Henry Vollenweider, with three others, were traveling toward Newnan. As they passed Hines's house a number of shots rang out from an old out house in the rear of his cabin, and Todd and Vollenweider fell to the ground.

Todd was struck with seventy-five shot and Vollenweider with seventeen. Vollenweider was frightened almost to death, and the entire party was non-plussed by the assault. But they made a rush on the house and caught one of Hines's boys, who said that his father and two white men did the shooting.

There were two double barrelled shotguns fired, but only two of the gun shots took effect.

Hines was absent from the community after the shooting, and the parties most interested set out to find his whereabouts. He was located in Atlanta, and was arrested by Patrolman Waites yesterday morning.

On his person were found warrants charging with kuklUxing Jake T. Mayfield, Henry Spradling, J. H. Fry, Jud Pinson, Walt Todd, Henry Vollenweiler and others. The sheriff of Coweta county deputized Mr. Mayfield to come after the negro, and with two assistants, the latter applied for the prisoner.

He was tied with a piece of twine passed around his arms and turned over to them at 10:45 last night. The warrants that he had sworn out against the party were turned over to his captors.

On the way from the stationhouse to the union depot, Hines resisted and yelled for help.

He finally pulled back until he slipped flat on his back on the slippery belgian blocks, with the rain coming down in torrents.

"Oh, don't let them take me off! Let me stay here till morning, when the high sheriff comes after me! These men will kill me! They broke open my house, took me out and beat me, and now they want to kill me! Oh, oh, oh!"

His cries attracted a large crowd, as bad as the weather was, and for awhile there was a sensation on Pryor street.

Finally, however, he was carried into the union depot and put aboard the West Point train. He will be carried to Newnan and placed in jail.

Mr. Mayfield thinks that they can easily identify the two white men who were with Hines when the shooting was done.

For the Confederate Home.

PEARSVILLE, Texas, October 18, 1889.—Dear Mr. Grady: I am a little boy, something over six years old. I have never been in Georgia, but have many kinfolks there. My grandfather was born and raised there and loves the old state very dearly. I love to have my father and mother read the letters in THE CONSTITUTION, especially about the confederate home. I want to do something for the old soldiers and this dime is all I have. I wish I could send more, I know you will not laugh at me for sending so little. Respectfully,

IRBY JENNINGS HUDSON.

CHILDREN'S DAY.

THE PROGRAMME AT THE EXPOSITION FOR THE LITTLE ONES.

How the Visiting Alliancemen Spent Yesterday—What They Say of the Great Show—Exposition Notes.

From the opening day of the great Piedmont exposition up to yesterday morning there could not have been more beautiful weather.

But yesterday from shortly before noon until late at night rain fell in torrents, and destroyed the entire exposition programme.

Every portion of the programme was interfered with seriously.

However, the alliance visitors had a good time, although they did not discuss cotton bagging.

At ten o'clock they took carriages at the Kimball and were driven to the grounds.

Then they separated and made a thorough inspection of all the exhibits. The majority of their time, however, was spent in agricultural and machinery hall. It was the unanimous verdict of the three visiting delegations and all the Georgia alliancemen, that both the agricultural and machinery exhibits was the finest they had ever seen at any exposition or fair of any kind.

MR. POLK, OF NORTH CAROLINA,

said, while standing in machinery hall: "This is simply magnificent. It is the best agricultural, farm implement and machinery display that I have ever seen. I don't believe it has been surpassed."

"Yes," replied Mr. Rumph, of Texas, "I have never seen it equaled anywhere."

"I am proud of my state, gentlemen, when I hear you say that," said Colonel Livingston, "for I know it is the best display I have ever seen, and I don't think it has been equaled anywhere. This display over here of Floyd county is the finest I have seen in the state."

"YOU HAVE A BIG SHOW," responded Colonel Evan Jones, "and above all a truly hospitable people. We have never been so royally welcomed or hospitably entertained as by the citizens of Atlanta and your Georgia alliancemen."

After thoroughly inspecting the various exhibits the party proceeded to the center of the main building to take a look at the bridal presents, which were on exhibition. There they met Mr. and Mrs. Downs, who had returned to the city, and the party had a pleasant chat.

The Alliancemen Banqueted.

At 2 o'clock the alliance guests were driven to the Piedmont club house, where an elegant banquet had been prepared, and for two hours they thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

After general conversation over the banquet board for a short while, Mr. Grady arose and made a short talk, after which he called upon nearly all the visitors. Five-minute talks were made by Hon. B. Broughton, of North Carolina; Hon. E. Newton, editor of the Texas Mercury; Hon. D. H. Rittenhurse, of North Carolina; Hon. D. W. Rumph, of Texas; Hon. B. J. Kendrick, of Texas; Hon. Josephus Daniels, of North Carolina; Colonel McDowell, of Tennessee; Hon. J. M. Forshie, of North Carolina; Hon. J. R. Blake, of South Carolina, and Colonel Livingston.

The speeches were short, but pithy, and many happy hits were made. The entire party enjoyed themselves and after it was over Colonel Livington said:

"Every one of our visitors have been wonderfully pleased with their reception and entertainment. Alliance day was a great success and I believe it is going to do a great deal to build up and improve the order. Then it will have a tendency to beat back the prejudice in commercial circles. I am proud of the Piedmont exposition and proud of the alliance."

The Tennessee delegation left the city yesterday afternoon.

The North Carolina and Texas delegations leave this morning.

Today's Programme.

If the weather permits today will be a splendid day at the exposition. Here is the programme. It is children's day:

12:30 p. m.—Camel race.

1 p. m.—Extra performance of the Wild West.

3:30 p. m.—Grand balloon ascension and parachute leap.

3:35 p. m.—Running races. Same entries as published yesterday.

The Bench Show.

The bench show is one of the best ever seen in Atlanta, and is now one of the drawing cards of the exposition.

The dogs occupy a special building to themselves, which is well filled with animals of some of the very best breeds.

The Gate City kennel is well represented in the show, and quite a number of Atlanta owners of fine dogs have them on exhibition. Almost all the leading strains are represented, from the terrier and English pug to the mastiff and bloodhound.

There are a number of fox hounds in the collection, and their musical bay attracted many visitors to the bench show yesterday.

During the day several races and trail chases were ran. Runners were started from a point in front of the grand stand, and, after winding about for several miles, the dogs were turned loose on the trail. Every time the trail was successfully followed by the pack, which finished up at the starting point in full cry.

Today there will be a fox chase, with a full pack of hounds, a drag race and a track race between hounds belonging to the Gate City kennel and Mr. Donaldson, of the convict camp.

The fox chase is given for the children, and it will be one of the prettiest and most enjoyable sights of the exposition. There is no more inspiring music than the bay of a pack of trained hounds under full run, and today's chase will be well worth seeing.

In the track race a negro, supposed to be an escaped convict, will be started from the grand stand an hour or so in advance of the dogs, returning to the starting place. The dog that reaches the starting point first will be declared the winner of the race, and his owner will be entitled to the prize.

Be sure to visit the bench show while you are at the exposition. It will please you, whether you are interested in dogs or not.

The Shooting Contest.

The shooting contest was the only feature of the exposition that was not seriously interfered with by the rain yesterday.

The shooting was very fine, and during the early part of the day was witnessed by several thousand people.

Following are the score and the events:

CODY AND THE LADY.

LAWIER TOM WATSON SPEAKS ABOUT THEM BOTH.

McGregor's Answer to the Cody Statement—Circumstances Recalled—What Mr. Watson Has to Say.

AUGUSTA, Ga., October 25.—[Special.]—In an interview in tomorrow's Chronicle, in reference to the Cody-McGregor case, Hon. Thomas E. Watson, counsel for McGregor, will say:

"I have read, in the Macon Telegraph and the Savannah News, the synopsis which they have published of Cody's statement. In its insinuations, a filthier piece of literature has not appeared in Georgia, to my knowledge. As this statement of Cody could not be legal evidence, it must have been published for the purpose of influencing public opinion. In justice to my client, Major McGregor, his reply to it should be known to the public. Perhaps the most important feature of it is the claim that he shot McGregor face to face, and that McGregor saw him and

and why he shot him. This statement will be overwhelmingly disproved by the confessions, which Cody himself made after the shooting was fixed on him, and by the physical facts which existed at the time, and which we will show beyond all contradiction. If anything could add to the force of the facts here alluded to, it would be the conduct of Cody the day after the shooting, when he came to McGregor's bedside to denounce the attempted assassination, and became the author of the resolution before the town council denouncing it, and of the letter to the governor asking that a reward be offered. I have for many years. I have been proud to have her friendship, and am proud to possess it now. Her husband was one of the very best friends I ever had, and I feel that as a gentleman, I should listen to her appeal made to me directly, and do all in my power to repel the contemptible calumny which has darkened her home, and added to the sorrow of her widowhood. She is now in middle life. She is the mother of children almost grown. Her character as a girl was unblemished—her conduct as a wife above all possible criticism. To attempt to make the impression that a lady of these surroundings, and at her time of life, would become so depraved as to bestow a guilty affection and at the same time, is utterly shocking to common sense and contrary to all human experience. She possesses the fullest confidence of her pastor and her church. In the wide circle of her friends there has not been a moment's doubt of her innocence, and had she been shielded by the protection of husband or brother, this slander would never have dared so boldly to attack a devout Christian lady.

UPON TWO MARRIED MEN

"From henceforth the newspaper that gives so unfounded will do a most cruel and unwarranted thing. The private citizen who, without knowledge and without proof, can continue to repeat a charge so injurious to a widowed woman and her helpless children, will do a most ungentlemanly thing; and he who undertakes to charge her in terms with being guilty of the alleged misconduct, will utter a most cruel slander."

A LETTER FROM M'GREGOR.

The Charleston News and Courier, which reached this place today, has the following:

A gentleman in this city who is a connection of Colonel C. E. McGregor, of Warrenton, Ga., has received the following letter, which will be read with interest by those who have read the published accounts of the tragedy. Colonel McGregor, it will be seen, writes from the Augusta jail. The letter is as follows:

AUGUSTA, Ga., October 19, 1889.—Dear Cousin: Your sympathetic letter of the 14th has reached me, having been forwarded by my wife. While the act I was impelled to commit is to be deplored, there is a consciousness of having done only that which manhood and self-preservation required. The man whom I slew had ambushed me, without provocation, in my own yard, when I was unconscious of having a foe or enemy in the community. Days and weeks after the attempt at assassination he visited me and claimed to be one of my best friends. Thirty-six hours after he shot me he led the young men's prayermeeting of the church (Baptist) of which we were members. When I succeeded in forcing his confession of the deed he begged mercy for his wife and child, alleging that he was crazy when he did the act, and if I would I could kill him, as he did not care to live. I spared him, and sought testimony to corroborate his confession. Finally he furnished it himself by making confessions to other parties, and in these confessions attempted to ruin my character and happiness of my family by the circulation of infamous lies. That I succeeded you well know. I discovered them. My life was in daily jeopardy, and an indictment was found against him, and I employed counsel to prosecute him. Compromises were offered me. I refused them. My life was threatened. My yard, from which I had previously been shot, was infested by people at night, and I had to keep my window blinds closed every night for fear of assassination. This I stood until the court convened for his trial, where I could meet face to face every slanderous report he had put in circulation. He ran away, after asserting publicly and privately that he was anxious for his trial. Only a few days before court he had said he had a negro who would kill me if he could get the proper backing.

When court adjourns he again appears, surrounded by his kin and relations. I was alone—no blood kin to protect or avenge. My family needed my life. It was in my hand; I used it for their support and my existence. I waived examination, and to protect my wife and children from the humiliation of having me in jail under their eyes every day selected Augusta as the place of my confinement.

Tomorrow's paper, I learn, will contain a statement purporting to have been written by him previous to his death. From what I am informed it contains only the slanders that he had previously circulated, and which had been fully met by my friends and myself as they bubbled up in the community.

My trial will take place in April, and I shall remain here till then.

I have hundreds of friends in Augusta who are very kind, and I am made as comfortable as possible. I have all the liberty I could ask, in fact the officials are old personal friends of former days and squanders it in every possible manner. ### THE FEDERAL COURT.

Illicit Distillers Appear Before Judge Speer.

MACON, Ga., October 25.—[Special.]—In the United States court today Wilkins J. Harper and Frank M. Harper plead guilty to illicit distilling. The defendants are residents of Hancock county and are father and son. The former was sentenced to three months imprisonment in the Bibb county jail and to pay a fine of two hundred dollars and costs, and the latter received two months imprisonment and a fine of two hundred dollars and costs. The son has just reached his majority, and was acting under the direction and persuasion of his father in illicit distilling. Judge Speer, in passing sentence on the son, said after he has served a reasonable portion of his sentence he would consider an application for suspension of sentence. John Lindsay, colored, of Butts county, charged with working in an illicit distillery, was sentenced to two months' imprisonment and a fine of one hundred dollars and costs.

FIRE IN ARLINGTON.

Nearly Half the Business Houses of the Town Destroyed.

ALBANY, Ga., October 25.—[Special.]—Nearly half the town of Arlington was burned down by an incendiary fire. The flames broke out on the south side of Main street, and spread rapidly. Among the places destroyed were the drug store of Dr. J. H. McClain, two saloons, and the four stores of Bethunes, Charlie Harris, Jim Sanders and the old Jones store. Some of the burned buildings were unoccupied. Many goods were saved from the business houses. The loss is estimated at about thirty thousand dollars, without insurance. The fire was incendiary.

An Angry Marshal.

DAWSON, Ga., October 25.—[Special.]—On Monday morning Chief of Police Savage pulled off his badge and returned it to the city council, with his resignation. The cause of the resignation is said to have been the release of a citizen by the council who had been arrested for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. The council re-elected Mr. Savage, and he went on duty again Tuesday morning.

ABOUT THE CITY.

What's the matter with the hackmen?

From all sides come complaints of exorbitant charges. Here is a sample received yesterday:

EDITORS CONSTITUTION: Negro hackmen dominate the city. Under a recent city ordinance, they are gouging the public in a merciless manner. How long will the people stand the imposition is the question which agitates many citizens. The negro hackmen can charge fifty cents for carrying a person to any portion of the city, provided the driver first gives notice of his charge. The old law allowing twenty-five cents for the same service gave ample remuneration. In an emergency, which often occurs, a citizen or stranger is in the greedy and extortionate grip of the hackmen. Council members, we call upon you for protection. CITIZEN.

"The law was changed," a hackman claimed, "so as to allow us to charge fifty cents for all over five blocks, unless some contract is made. The old law was twenty five cents anywhere within the city limits up to 10 o'clock at night; after that double fare."

"There is some mistake in that," said a member of the council when asked about that body's action on this question. "The only action I recollect was that relating to charges outside the old limits; at least, my impression was that the newly-added territory was all that was affected by that legislation, and I am sure that was the idea of the members of the council."

Here's the way the present law works—if it is the law.

There were three hundred of more students of the Girls' High school in attendance upon the meeting of the Browning society yesterday. Just after the exercises had eneded, the storm came up. Some of that three hundred had umbrellas and about thirty had money enough to pay hack fare. Professor Slaton called street hacks for those that desired them, but when the hackmen came they refused to carry those who lived any distance for less than fifty cents each. The young ladies were at the mercy of the hackmen and had either to pay the half dollar or tramp through the rain.

The same rule works with everybody. The unsuspecting business man, knowing nothing of the hackmen's reading of this law, orders a hack to carry him home—say on Peachtree or Pryor streets. At the end of his journey he is called on for fifty cents, and rather than get into a row with the hackman pays it.

Isn't this a good opportunity for some sensible legislation?

Lucky that the rain kept off until yesterday. With such weather as that of yesterday, alliance day would have been an exact counterpart of Cleveland day two years ago.

---

The corridors of the Kimball house presented a decidedly exposition appearance at four o'clock yesterday morning. Every bench in, and each of the stone steps leading from, the office was occupied by some sleeping alliance man or other visitor.

---

The Courtland avenue and West Peachtree branches of the Fulton County Electric line are being pushed forward. The wires are up on Courtland avenue.

---

Colonel Buck will probably make a good many changes when he takes charge of the marshal's office. That is to be expected, but—who will Judge Pardee make circuit court clerk?

STRIPPED OF HIS CLOTHING.

Bill Williams, of Clayton County, Pays Well for a Spree.

Coatless, hatless and without his suspenders a young man appeared at the exposition stationhouse yesterday morning.

He gave his name as Bill Williams.

"What's the matter?" asked Stationhouse Keeper Abbott.

"I've been robbed. I came in with a party yesterday, and we all got to drinking and enjoying ourselves. I guess I must have got pretty full, for when I woke up this morning I had neither coat, vest nor suspenders. My hat was gone, and I had no shoes on my feet. My money, about fifteen dollars, was all gone."

Some kind-hearted people helped to rig Williams up in a makeshift suit, and he hit the grit for Clayton county a sadder and soberer citizen.

THE RESTRICTIVE AMENDMENT STILL UNDER DISCUSSION.

The Senate Discussing the Bartlett Amendment—The Other Amendments Disposed Of—Discussion to be Continued Monday.

The senate dispatched the Rice and Fitzgerald amendments yesterday, and began on the Bartlett restriction.

The vote on the Bartlett amendment will be larger than on either of the others, but it is not likely to pass. Its friends claim twenty-one votes.

Pending Senator Bartlett's argument, which lacked about twenty minutes of completion, the senate at one o'clock adjourned until this morning.

Consideration of the lease bill was postponed until Monday, in order that a number of important local house bills, which had a limited time to go through the mill, might be read and referred to appropriate committees. No afternoon session was held, because the committees were loaded with work, and it would be impossible to get a quorum in the senate without crippling the committees which were maturing a large amount of business. The lease bill will be completed early next week.

Another Inventory Amendment.

Senator Hall submitted an amendment perfecting his amendment of the day before, which substituted the inventory of 1872 for that of 1870.

At the senator's request, the resolutions of 1872 were read. They recited that the lessees of the Western and Atlantic railroad had complained that the inventory of 1870 was incorrect, doing injustice to the lessees in some particulars, and to the state in others.

Senator Hall stated that the inventory of 1872 increased the value of the leased property by $260,000.

Senator Bartlett put on this inventory amendment, a provison that the state seall not be bound by any statement or conclusion made in the report of the arbitrators under the resolutions of 1872.

The Rice Amendment Lost.

The Rice amendment putting the Western and Atlantic railroad, under the provisions of the law taxing railroads by counties then came up and Senator Rice supported it by a short speech in which he said it was right that this corporation should bear its portion of the public burden in the counties it penetrated. He was not afraid that this provision would make the road bring a low rental.

Senator Rice had said the day before that he could not think Senator Fitzgerald was in earnest about his sale amendment. Mr. Fitzgerald now retaliated by saying he did not think Senator Rice could be in earnest about this county tax clause, and he thought if he thought about it a little he would withdraw it.

Senator Hall thought it was bad policy, and opposed it in a few words.

The amendment was overwhelmingly defeated.

They Won't Sell the Road.

The Fitzgerald amendment came up next, and was knocked out in about an hour, after several speeches.

Senator Fitzgerald said in support of his proposition:

"I am not prepared to make a long argument, but I would like to say enough to convince the senator from the thirty-fifth that I am in earnest. If I don't succeed it will be for lack of patience in him to hear me.

"This amendment does not propose to interfere with the lease of the Western and Atlantic railroad in any respect, but that in case there is no acceptable bid, the governor shall be authorized to accept for the purchase of the road one of the bids authorized by the amendment. If the road will not bring $3,000 per month the governor is authorized to sell it for not less than the amount of the state debt, which is about $8,500,000. If it sells for more than that this amendment provides that the surplus shall go into the school fund of the state. It is not necessary to make a lengthy argument about it; it has been discussed for years, and every man has his mind made up."

SENATOR BOYD.

Senator Boyd opposed the amendment. He said that if there was anything the members of the legislature were commissioned by their constituents to do it was to lease the Western and Atlantic railroad.

"If you pass this amendment, will that defeat the lease of the road?" asked Senator Fitzgerald.

"It subjects the road to sale by possibility," replied Senator Boyd. "Lend us not into temptation is a good prayer. I shall not vote for any amendment that contemplates a sale of the road. We are about to agree upon a lease bill, and the gentleman interpolates a contingency which might destroy the vitality of the lease. If we get the lease upon a long term of years, we will pay the state debt and build up the school fund."

"If the money arising from the rental is appropriated to the school fund, how are you going to pay the state debt out of the rental?" asked Senator Williams.

"Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof," said Senator Boyd. "The wisdom of future legislatures will regulate that matter. Don't take up trouble before it comes.

"It has been argued that if this road should by any contingency get into the hands of the governor it would be a political hobby. You can't keep the road out of politics even if you lease it. I don't see that it would be such a terrible thing for it to fall into the hands of the governor."

"Is not the interest on the public debt $160,000 a year in excess of the rental from the road?" asked Senator Fitzgerald.

"Under the lease we have about consummated we will soon catch up with that," replied Mr. Boyd.

SENATOR RICE.

Senator Rice opposed the sale of the road.

"When we were candidates last fall," said he, "it was the general sentiment that the man who was in favor of the sale of the road was not a safe man to send to the senate. I announced that I would vote for the lease of the road and for the appropriation of the rental to the public school fund.

"Suppose the lease is for thirty-five thousand dollars for thirty years. That gives $10,800,000 of cash and at the end of the lease the development of the country and the increase of the population would make it far more valuable than it is today.

"It is bad policy for a bad trader to sell his property when it brings a good income. The state occupies that position. If a bad trader sells a paying property he has the money all in hand and squanders it in a few years. If we sell this road that will be the result. Let us keep it and it will rent for a good price. I am not afraid the bids will be less than $35,000 a month. We will pay our debt out of the surplus earnings of our business, and the proceeds of the rental will build up education and at the end of the lease we will have a magnificent property to posterity.

"If our public debt is all paid it will not be long before we make a larger one. It is the policy of governments to keep some debt hanging over them to keep down extravagance and corruption. The United States government is reducing its debt, but if it were wiped out a bigger debt would be created."

SENATOR STROTHER.

Senator Strother favored the sale amendment. He would even favor it as an original proposition, with an alternative lease.

"This road," he said, "originally cost the state $3,000,000, and at five per cent simple interest it has cost her in principal and interest $24,000,000. From 1840 to 1870 it was an incubus on the state, and at last it was leased because it would not pay. Now, simply because this amendment proposes an alternative sale if the lease bids are not satisfactory, they say it is outrageous.

"In 1878 the legislature sold the Macon and Brunswick road and no one has ever questioned the wisdom of that action of the general assembly.

"The money arising from the sale would be applied as the constitution directs and the payments would be arranged to meet the maturity of the public debt.

"If you keep the road parallel lines will be built and the value of the property will pass away as a puff of smoke from a cigar. When I voted for the Marietta and North Georgia railroad extension, though I thought it was not right for the state to discriminate in its own favor against its citizens, I felt that that action injured the state road."

"Were you not sworn to support the constitution?" asked Senator Lyle, mischievously, "and do you think it is supporting the constitution to vote against the interest of the state?"

"I will answer the gentleman by saying, I voted like he did, and by all rules of logic, if an objection holds equally against the objector he should not make it."

This reply was greeted with laughter, and Senator Lyle again sought to trip him up by asking: "Did you ever run a railroad?" Senator Strother returned the compliment and remarked that he would devote five minutes at his conclusion to answering questions, but if they were no harder than they had been so far they would give him no trouble.

SENATOR M'COLLUM.

Senator McCullom opposed the sale of the road in a short speech. He argued that the property gave Georgia credit in the markets of the world, and that it was the property of the poor children of the state who could get no education from any other source. The state," he said, "can get all the money it wants at four per cent, and four per cent on the public debt, which is $8,500,000, would only be $340,000, a sum far short of the amount to be realized under the lease according to this bill, which is at least $35,000 a month, or $420,000 a year. It would be bad financial policy to sell the road for a less amount than the sum on which would yield $420,000 interest at four per cent."

After some further argument Senator McCollum concluded and the amendment went to a vote on Senator Julian's call for the previous question.

The amendment was lost by a vote of 26 to 14.

The yeas and nays were as follows:

Yeas—Messrs. Alford, Ballard, Bartlett, Edwards, Fitzgerald, Harper, Johnson, Massengale, Ray, Roberts, Sanford, Sharpe, Strother, Whitfield—14.

Nays—Messrs. Allgood, Boyd, DuPree, Folks, Foster, Garen, Gibbs, Gibson, Gowen, Hall, Harris, Harris, Henderson, Holmes, Johnston, Julian, Little, Lyle, McCarty, McCollum, Rice, Shannon, Trammell, Vick, Williams, Wooten—26.

The Whitfield Proviso.

Senator Whitfield then put in an amendment providing that the governor shall open the bids in the presence of all the bidders, and shall give notice of the time when he will open them by publication one time in the daily papers of Atlanta.

He said he had heard from a citizen of Atlanta that by some neglect on the part of officials the state lost $87,000 when the bids were opened before. He could not vouch for the truth of the statement, but he wished to guard against any possibility of such loss by providing that the bids be opened in the presence of the persons most concerned.

The amendment was unanimously agreed to.

The Bartlett Amendment.

It was 12 o'clock when Senator Bartlett's amendment was reached. After it had been read he spoke for nearly an hour substantially as follows:

"The purpose of this amendment is obvious to all who are familiar with the history of the state. This provision was put in for reasons that were convincing to those who framed the constitution of 1877. The great mind that engineered that constitution conceived this section, which he thought would protect the people from monopoly and insure them freedom in commerce which is as essential to the protection and freedom of the citizen as any other kind of freedom, political or religious. It was done for the reason that there had been attempts—unsuccessful, it is true—by competing lines of railroads to combine and destroy competition, and by that means to promote an unhealthy and illegal traffic, to make unhealthy prices for transportation not guaranteed or permitted by the demands of the people or the demands of commerce.

"The mind that conceived it had as much in view to protect the people from what had passed as to guard against what might occur in future."

He then read the provision of the constitution, which declares that the legislature shall not have power to grant to any corporation or association of individuals the right to buy or own stock in other corporations so as to lessen or defeat competition or encourage monopoly.

He said it had been argued by lawyers in the house that while the legislature had no authority to grant such powers to corporations it could not punish those who violated this provision of the constitution.

Fortunately, he said, the constitution is explicit on this subject. It says the legislature shall enforce this provision by appropriate legislation. The legislature may disregard the constitution in order that this road may bring $10,000 or $5,000 a month more for rental. The argument has been made that the state is sovereign, and not bound by the constitution. The senate had in this very bill recognized that in dealing with this property it must be put under the same regulations as other roads.

The amendments of Senator Trammell and Senator Rice, putting the road under the railroad commission.

Referring to the Richmond and West Point Warehouse and Terminal company, Senator Bartlett said: "This little railroad only twenty miles long with a charter giving it the right to do almost anything it wishes absolutely organized what is called "The plan of campaign" to capture all the railroads in Georgia. They did it by purchasing at a cost of $2,400,000 the right to vote a majority of the Central railroad shares at the election of directors in 1887, and they hunted up a point in the piney woods of North Carolina called High Point, and organized what is known as the Georgia company with a capital stock of sixteen millions of dollars. Then they bought four million dollars of the stock of the Central railroad and transferred that to the Georgia company organized in South Carolina, says the president of the Central railroad, because the constitution and laws of Georgia as we understood it did not permit such a corporation in Georgia." It was to defeat the constitution of Georgia that they went to North Carolina and organized it. They have transferred the Georgia company with its sixteen millions of stock and four millions of Central railroad stock to the Richmond and West Point Terminal company, and both went to Wall street, and from there today control the Central railroad. Not only that, but I hold in my hand the mortgages and the contract given by the Georgia company to the Richmond Terminal, to the Central Trust company with the four million dollars of Central railroad stock for the purpose of borrowing money—in which contract it is guaranteed that the Richmond Terminal company shall dictate the policy and shall elect a majority of the directors of the Central railroad.

"Not satisfied with that, they leased the East Tennessee, the road the state of Georgia had permitted to be built with this provision in its charter; and when they had done that they say with a smiling face that the charter and the provisions of the Georgia charter are inoperative because they have reorganized under a Tennessee charter, and today we have the spectacle of all the railroads in Georgia, except a few new roads, controlled by one company."

Senator Boyd asked if Judge Gibson had not, in the Tennessee court, decided that the lease of the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad was null and void.

Senator Bartlett said he had, and had so decided on the ground that the lease contract was in violation of the constitution of the state of Georgia.

He said that, not content with defeating competition, these people had combined with the Savannah, Florida and Western railroad to prevent the building of new railroads in Georgia.

"They say they are going to develop the country and do great things for us. In other words they say, only let us be your master and we will be very kind masters indeed. Let us see. On the Western and Atlantic railroad and the East Tennessee, two competing lines, the through freight rate is ninety-seven-hundredths of a cent per ton per mile, while on the Central it is 1.98, over double the rate on the two competitive lines, and on the Georgia railroad it is 1.68 per ton per mile."

He called attention to the testimony of a gentleman that the combination roads would not take through freight from the Chattanooga, Rome and Columbus road at Carrollton for Augusta for less than the local rate, and would not prorate on business by that route from Chattanooga to Augusta.

Pending the argument the senate adjourned consideration of this bill till Monday immediately after reading the journal. Then the senate adjourned till 10 o'clock this morning.

The Lessee Claim Commission.

Senator Whitfield submitted his resolution for a claim commission in the senate yesterday and had it referred to the general judiciary committee, with instructions to report at once.

The supreme court judges, Governor Smith, Governor McDaniel, Governor Colquitt and Major Campbell Wallace are made a commission to meet in Atlanta on the 28th of November and organize for the hearing and disposition of the claims of the lessees. It has power to compel the attendance of witnesses, etc., and is to complete its work by September 20th, 1890.

The Whitfield Resolution Favorably Reported.

Senator Whitfield is ahead in the first round.

The general judiciary committee agreed by a vote of 4 to 3 to recommend his resolution for a commission to liquidate the claims of the Western and Atlantic railroad lessees.

Senator Hall was in the chair, and the resolution came to a vote without discussion.

Senators Bartlett, Harris and Shannon voted against the resolution, and Senators Whitfield, DuPree, Lyle and Strother voted for it.

It will be reported favorably this morning, and will come up for discussion on Monday or Tuesday—probably the latter. Then it will provoke warm discussion.

The Labor Compromise.

The argument on the ten-hour bill was concluded before the senate judiciary committee yesterday afternoon, and an understanding was reached between the committee, the mill men and Messrs. Fleming and Duggar, who favored the bill, on the basis of eleven hours. The bill will be reported to the senate with an amendment changing the limit from ten to eleven hours.

It is said that the compromise includes this understanding between the friends of the bill and the mill men: That the house will strike out of the Rice child labor bill the Boyd amendment, prohibiting the employment of minors under 17 years longer than ten hours a day.

Mr. Tiguer, of Muscogee, who made such a gallant fight for the ten hour bill, is not a party to the compromise and will probably oppose the eleven hour amendment in the house, when it goes back for concurrence.

A NEW LEASE BILL

BY MR. HUMPHRIES, OF SCREVEN, AND MR. JOHNSTON,

Of Campbell—It Contemplates an Adjustment by a Direct Lease to the Present Lessees.

A new lease bill!

After all the discussion and dispute over the lease bill now in the senate—Dr. Felton's—the legislature is offered an entirely new plan.

It isn't a substitute—its a new bill.

Messrs. Humphries of Screven, and Johnston of Campbell, are the authors of the measure.

It was introduced yesterday, printed yesterday, and will be read in the house this forenoon.

WHAT IT CONTEMPLATES.

The bill provides that the road shall be leased to the present lessees for fifty years for not less than $30,000 a month, the lessees to relinquish all claims against the state for betterments and all claims for taxes paid by them. The lessees shall in no case sub-let the road without the consent of the state.

A new and complete inventory is provided for, the lessees are bound to keep the road in first-class condition, and to return the road—without claim for betterments of any description—in as good condition and as fully equipped as any road in the state.

No discrimination shall be made by the lessees for or against any railroad company.

The governor is authorized at any and all times he may deem it necessary to appoint experts to see that the provisions of the bill are honestly and fully carried out.

In case the present lessees refuse to accept this proposition, provision is made—practically the same as in the present lease bill—for the lease of the road by open competitive bid.

Mr. Johnston Talks.

"The bill," said Mr. Johnston last night, "proposes to settle this betterment question, and thus dispel the clouds that are embarrassing the lease. It leaves the title clear—perfectly. It disposes of every claim of the lessees. In the second place, it disconnects the valuable realty in the city of Chattanooga after three years, and leaves it to be disposed of by some future legislature, and at the same time settles this trouble between the city of Chattanooga and the state of Georgia. It provides for what the state is obliged to have—new depots in Atlanta and Chattanooga.

"The state gets $5,000 more per month than she is now receiving, and to this may be added $10,000 per month from rentals on the Chattanooga property. These two items would make the round sum of $40,000 per month, as against the $25,000 she is now receiving, and as against the $35,000 she would receive by the operation of the bill now in the house. Competition is preserved as effectually as it could be by a competitive bid, for the Louisville and Nashville is a competitor of the West Point Terminal. In fact, I think it is the only competitor that we could lease to on terms advantageous to the state."

"Will the proposition likely meet the approval of the Louisville and Nashville or the present lessees?"

"That I can't tell. I have give the question a great deal of very careful study, and from a business standpoint, I am sure the proposition will commend itself to the Louisville and Nashville. It is the clearest way out of the difficulties confronting the legislature, and I believe it's to the best interest of the state."

"In case the present lessees," continued Mr. Johnston, "don't accept the proposition, the road is to be leased by a competitive bid, as provided in Dr. Felton's bill. In case there should possibly be no bidder under the competitive bid proposition, the matter goes into the hands of the next legislature, which meets in November, 1890. That is two months before the expiration of the present lease, and there is no danger to the state of misfortune through hasty and ill considered action. I have not seen the lessees, or any one of them, in reference to the matter. I do not know whether or not it will meet with their approval. My bill has not yet been read, but will be tomorrow morning. Then both the lessees and the house will have the proposition in its details, and there might with propriety, I think, be had a final conference and distinct understanding.

"The provision in reference to the state's property in Chattanooga being disconnected from the Western and Atlantic right of way is the recommendation of the commission appointed under the Candler resolution of 1887. They investigated this matter fully, and I agree with them that this is the very best disposition that can be made of that property. I have talked with a number of members, and am encouraged to believe that the bill will be generally accepted with favor. Some few think the lessees will not accept the proposition, while others believe that the road should not go for less than $35,000. Of course the figures can be changed to that extent without affecting the real plan of the bill. That's a matter to be determined simply by a majority. I might have left the amount blank, but simply put the figures that seemed most reasonable to me personally."

About Judge Lester.

Mr. Smith, of Gwinnett, arose to a question of privilege yesterday morning and stated that as he was unavoidably absent from the house when the candidate for judge was put in nomination Thursday, he desired to make a statement.

Judge Lester, of the county of Cobb, one of the candidates for judge of the Blue Ridge circuit, had asked him to say to the general assembly that in obedience to the wishes of mutual friends he had withdrawn from the race, and asked him to say to his friends who had supported him that they had his sincere thanks for so doing. I make this statement in justice to the gentleman who asked it.

Mr. Johnson's Road Bill.

Mr. Johnson, of Clinch, scored a great victory yesterday.

His bill to protect roads and bridges was carried in the house by a vote of 90 to 25.

The measure provides that any person or persons who use the public roads and bridges in this state for the purpose of hauling ranging, saw mill or other heavy timber or turpentine, over roads or bridges where such person or persons or their employers may not be subject to road duty, and where the use of the roads by such person has rendered the roads or bridges impassable or dangerous, that such person or persons shall repair and make good any and all damages and injury to the public roads and bridges.

Violation of this act is a misdemeanor, punishable under section 4310.

This is for protection against the mill owners and turpentine men of south Georgia who use the road and contribute little or nothing towards keeping it up.

The bill is a local option measure.

The Macon and Birmingham Charter.

A majority and a minority report were submitted yesterday by the committee appointed to investigate the count on the Macon and Birmingham charter bill.

After a lengthy debate a resolution was passed, requesting the senate to return the bill for a correction of the count.

Colonel Crowder's Bill.

Yesterday the house passed, by a vote of 88 to 25, Colonel Crowder's bill to tax the notes, bonds, mortgages and other evidences of indebtedness held by non-resident persons and corporations.

The bill was lost once, and then reconsidered.

AMONG THE RAILROADS.

Mr. Joe W. White, traveling passenger agent of the Georgia railroad, was in Atlanta yesterday.

Mr. Robert W. Hunt, traveling passenger agent of the Augusta and Asheville Short-Line, with headquarters at Augusta, was in the city yesterday.

From early yesterday morning until 1 o'clock it was difficult to find any of the railroad men about their offices. During that time Miss Lillie Clay's Loadon Gayety company were in the depot, en route to Augusta in their special cars, and the boys all had business that called them to the car shed.

Mr. Alexander Thweat, of the Georgia Pacific road, sat in his office yesterday and smoked good cigars. He said he enjoyed the weeds especially because the box was purchased for him by his friend, Mr. A. Vernoy, as a recognition of his pleasing manners. Mr. Vernoy said, however, that he purchased the cigars because he judged Mr. Thweatt's bashfulness by his own, and bet him that when the alliance bride drove up to the Kimball house he would not congratulate the couple. When the carriage arrived, Mr. Thweatt, with a Chesterfieldian bow and the smile which has created havoc among the ladies all over the country, stepped to the door, and seizing the bride by the hand, wished her every happiness. Mr. Vernoy further claimed that it was worth the cigars to see how neatly Mr. Thweatt went through the performance.

HIS HEAD IN A BAG.

The Way a Sharper Caught A Visitor—How to Make Money.

His head in a bag!

That was the predicament in which Mr. Gann, of Dallas, found himself wednesday night near the exposition grounds.

Mr. Gann told his story at the stationhouse yesterday. He said that as he was coming from the grounds he met a man who approached him in a very smooth-tonged manner, and asked him if he did not want to learn how to make some money easy.

Mr. Gann was deceived into taking a walk with the stranger, and when the two reached a lonely place, the stranger suddenly threw a sack over Mr. Gann's head, and in the struggle tried to rob his pocket of several dollars. But he failed and Mr. Gann saved his money.

The Lutheran Fair.

The German Lutheran fair continues its successful course, and before it closes the money will be obtained to pay the debt on the church, which was the object of the ladies in organizing the fair. Tonight the contest for the bracelets between Misses Kutschan and Weddersheim will be closed, and the friends of both the young ladies will be out in force to electioneer for them. At 10 o'clock the dancing begins, and the music and gaiety continue until 12 o'clock.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Stocks as Reported at the New York Stock Exchange.

NEW YORK, October 25.—The prices are again higher in the stock market tonight. The market was more active and decidedly strong today and was of a more feeble nature. The new agreement between the Union Pacific and Northwestern was looked on more favorably, and buying in these stocks were stimulated by it. Grangers and coal stocks were strong, as were all the Vanderbilts and Lake Shore in particular. Gould stocks, with the single exception of Missouri Pacific, was rather backward, but many of the specialties made sharp gains. Buying was done by commission houses who advise buying for the first time since the monetary stringency became a factor in the stock market, aided by Chicago and London in the afternoon.

Shorts covered freely on each condition of money and went backward to a great extent. Trusts were again very prominent in the dealings, and sugar was weak on a rumor of losses by the trust with a probable further fall in the prices of its product, together with new opposition. Cotton oil, on the contrary, was a strong point, resulting in heavy covering, and expectation that reducing the capital would result in a scarcity of stock caused some buying. Sugar recovered on the report that no decision in North river would be handed down today. There was some realizing toward the close, and a fractional concession was made from the best figures, but the close while quiet, was firm to strong. Final changes are almost invariably in the direction of higher prices and cotton oil is up 2¾. Lackawanna 2, Chicago gas and Denver, Texas and Fort Worth 1¾, Rock Island 1¾, Tennessee coal 1¾, Northwestern 1¼, Missouri Pacific 1¼, Alchison, Jersey Central, Northern Pacific preferred, St. Paul and Union Pacific each 1, and others fractional amounts. Sales aggregated 218,000 shares.

Exchange quiet but firm at 4 82@4 86½. Money easy at 4½@6. Subtreasury balances: Coin $157,101,000; currency, $3,426,000. Governments dull but steady: 4s 127; 4½s 106¾. State bonds neglected.

NEW YORK, October 25.—[Special.]—Henry Clews & Co.'s circular on the cotton market today says: The cotton market during the past week under review has been irregular and strongly savoring of manipulation. The trading was active and at times excited, while the fluctuations were sharp. Since last Friday the general tendency has been downward. So much so in fact that prices reached the lowest level since the big break from the rapid advance last July. The control of the market also seems to have changed hands, the bear element now predominating in place of the bulls. The decline began with the opening of the market on Saturday, when the weak holders began to throw over large lines of cotton, having become tired of forcing prices up when everything appeared to be in favor of a decline. The early part of the week a great amount of long cotton, bought on the anticipated unfavorable bureau report and the frost scare, was pressed for sale, owing to the exhaustion of margins, and on Tuesday a large number of stop orders were reached, precipitating a decline of 14@16 points and causing a weak and uneasy feeling to vail. It was on this day that prices came within about 5 points of reaching the lowest level of the season. December broke to 9.90 while January reached 9.86, and the shorts were enabled to cover their contracts with handsome profits. There was a reaction on Wednesday, owing to the manipulations of a firm in the Liverpool market and threatened frost in the western portion of the cotton belt. The belated shorts were most aggressive buyers, and a recovery of 9@11 points was established throughout the list, but as reports from the southern markets began to come in showing declines of 1-16@⅜c on spot cotton, a general selling movement was inaugurated, which caused this improvement to soon fade away. The bulls showed evidence of being scared on Thursday, and the only thing which prevented a further decline was the covering of shorts. October option was not materially affected, being more or less neglected. The grip which the bulls have on this option continues, and it is thought there is yet considerable short interest in it, but there is now on the way here fully 20,000 bales of spots from Savannah, Charleston and Wilmington to cover this interest. There were a few notices sent out on Octobers today, but they were soon stopped. Taking into consideration the fact that the market has already had a fair break, a slight reaction is in order, but eventually prices must seek a lower level. Our advices from the south are favorable, and picking is progressing rapidly. The receipts at the interior towns are estimated at 130,000 bales, against 116,000 bales last week. The total receipts at the ports for the week are the heaviest on record, aggregating 314,507 bales, against 806,558 bales last week and 274 432 bales last year. The course of the market today was very irregular. It was thought the strong opening of Liverpool, showing an advance of 5-64d on October and 2@3-64d on the balance of the list, would be reflected in our market at the opening, but contrary to general expectations and the ardent hopes of the bulls, the first prices were only 2@3 points higher, with the exception of that which obtained in the October option. This improvement was soon lost under the influence of heavy offerings by the Germans and bear operators on larger receipts than was expected? The weather south continues favorable for picking. As receipts both at interior and seaboard towns are increasing daily, prices must seek a lower level.

HENRY CLEWS & Co.

NEW ORLEANS, October 25—[Special]—Glenny & Violet in their cotton circular of today say: There was quite a bullish feeling here this morning, after the advance of Liverpool 2-64 and New York 2 points, our market advancing 4 points; but later, when the interior movement returns came in, showing large receipts, and Liverpool closing easy at a loss of 1-32, we declined and closed 7 to 8 points lower than the highest of the day. It is difficult to say much about the market that has not already been said, except that without the support of Liverpool it will be difficult, with the large movement of cotton in this country, to get up any permanent improvement. Speculation, which is always uncertain, however, might take hold of it on the bull side, which at the moment does not seem probable, altough the long interest in New York is not very strongly held, owing to small stock there. Port receipts for the week are the largest ever received, being 315,000 bales, against 274,000 bales last year, and the interior movement is also very heavy, being 138,000, against 130,000 last year, but interior shipments are also heavy, indicating again a large port movement next week. F. o. b. sellers were offering somewhat freely today, but at prices which could not be touched by our local buyers.

Spots here are quiet; sales 5,500 bales; middling 9¾c.

NEW YORK, October 25.—The Sun's cotton review says: Cotton futures opened 2@3 points better on further advance in the Liverpool market, but as that market promptly receded and the interior movement began to show up very full figures, the selling movement began, under which values slowly but steadily gave way, and the close was barely steady at the lowest figures of the day. Manipulation of the October corner caused this option to advance and the November options developed some irregularity. Weather reports from the south were very good.

Cotton on the spot was almost entirely neglected. Middling uplands 10¼c; gulfs 10¾c.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Features of the Speculative Movement in Grain and Provisions.

CHICAGO, October 25.—Wheat—Trading was moderate and within narrow limits. The market was dull at about yesterday's closing figures, held easy for awhile and then advanced ¾c for December and ⅝c for May above the inside figures reached, eased off ¾c, rallied at ⅝c, and closed ⅝c higher for December and ¾c higher for May than the closing figures yesterday. It was rumored that the agricultural department had figured total yield at 498,000,000 bushels for the crop of 1889, but nothing definite could be learned regarding the rumor. It was also rumored that twenty loads of wheat had been taken in New York for export, but late advices denied this, but stated that it might prove to be twenty loads of No. 1 northern taken by Philadelphia millers.

Corn—The firm feeling that has permeated this market for several days past became more apparent and higher prices were established, especially on near on near deliveries. The market opened ¼c above the closing prices of yesterday, was strong and gradually advanced ⅝c, eased off ¾c, became firmer, and closed ⅛@⅜c higher than yesterday.

Oats were steadier with light trading.

Mess pork—A moderate trade was reported, but the feeling was somewhat unsettled and prices irregular. October deliveries were easy and 10@12½c lower, the market closing rather quiet.

Lard—A little more steadiness was manifested, but the trading was only moderate. Prices ruled slightly higher, and the market closed steady.

Short ribs were only fair, and there were no particular changes to note.

THE CONNECTICUT MUTUAL

Will Establish a Southern Agency, With Headquarters at Atlanta, Ga.

From the Hartford, Conn., Post.

The great advances recently made in industrial enterprises, in wealth and in population, by several of the southern states—notably Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee—have attracted for some time the attention of all northern men, and are now diverting to that field many New England activities which have hitherto been confined strictly to northern latitudes. The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance company, one of the most conservative institutions of its class in America, is about establishing a southern department, which as now constituted will embrace only the northern portions of Georgia and Alabama, but will doubtless be extended eventually to include areas not now covered by any of the great life companies. Messrs. John B. Cook and Francis E. Brownell, now of the home office in Hartford, have been appointed agents, will remove about November 1st, to Atlanta, Ga., which city will be headquarters for the new agency. The particular field chosen is a conspicuously good one, including within its limits such cities as Atlanta, Rome, Augusta, Macon, Anniston, Birmingham, Decatur, Hanesville, Florence and other important and populous localities. Messrs. Cook and Brownell are young men whose acquaintance all southern gentlemen will enjoy and they will worthily represent in the progressive communities of Georgia and Alabama, the Connecticut Mutual, which occupies a conspicuous and honorable place among the great life insurance companies of the world. The present departure of this company in the direction of "the new south" is beyond question wisely taken and cannot fail of being productive of important results.

21-2 Acres in West End, New 4 r Cottage,

With good orchard, vineyard, etc.; one block from the dummy line; worth only $1,600 if taken by November 1st next. Sam'l. W. Goode & Co.

Convincing Proof.

In many instances it has been proven that B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm), made by Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga., will cure blood poison in its worst phases, even when all other treatment fails.

A. P. Brunson, Atlanta, Ga., writes: "I had twenty-four running ulcers on one leg and six on the other, and felt greatly prostrated. I believe I actually swallowed a barrel of medicine, in valefforts to cure the disease. With little hope I finally acted on the urgent advice of a friend, and got a bottle of B. B. B. I experienced a change, and my despondency was somewhat dispelled. I kept using it until I had taken sixteen bottles, and all the ulcers, rheumatism and all other horrors of blood poison have disappeared, and at last I am sound and well again, after an experience of twenty year of torture."

Robert Ward, Maxey, Ga., writes: "My disease was pronounced a tertiary form of blood poison. My face, head and shoulders were a mass of corruption, and finally the disease began eating my skull bones. My bones ached; my kidneys were deranged, I lost flesh and strength, and life became a burden. All said I must surely die, but nevertheless, when I had used ten bottles of B. B. B. I was pronounced well. Hundreds os scars can now be seen on me. I have now been well over twelve months." 1w

It is the only fire place that can be piped to a common chimney. Call and see it. oct20 dtf

The First In the South.

Ladies visiting Atlanta are invited to call and consult, if needed, Atlanta's most eminent female physician, Mrs. Rosa F. Monnish, M. D., the first and only female physician in her specialty south. She occupies with her husband, Dr. W. A. Monnish, the elegant three-story building at the junction of Peachtree, North Forsyth and Church streets, erected for her special use. Ladies' reception rooms, office and dispensary situated on first floor, while the two upper stories are used for a sanitarium. All modern conveniences, hot and cold water, gas, electric calls, etc., in every room; in fact, acknowledged the handsomest and best appointed sanitarium, enjoying the most liberal patronage of the ladies south. This sanitarium is not to be compared with other institutions or sanitariums, as the sanitarium and dispensary of Mrs. Dr. Monnish is for ladies only, and therefore strictly private. All patients remaining in the sanitarium receive separate rooms and enjoy the privileges and comforts of a first class home.

Connected with the sanitarium, but in a separate building, is a lying-in home for ladies who wish to be strictly private during confinement, where they will receive the best of attention compatible with their comfort and health.—adv dtf

How to Get Glasses.

When a person suspects or believes that his eyes may be benefitted by the use of glasses, the best thing for him to do is, to consult an oculist or optician, who possesses special knowledge and skill in fitting the eye. When glasses become cracked, or badly scratched they should be immediately taken to the optician for repair, and not worn at the expense of strain or irritation of the eye. At Hawkes' optical depot you will find skilled professionals ready to repair your broken glasses or fit you with a pair of the famous "Hawkes' Crystalized Lenses." No charge for fitting. These wonderful glasses are not sold on the exposition grounds.

The manufacturers of the "Standard" rotary shuttle sewing machine wish to negotiate for the wholesale agency of their machine for the states of Georgia, Alabama, Florida, North and South Carolina or will arrange for these states separately. We can show better results than almost any other wholesale business. For terms and full information call on T. R. Terry, Kimball house, Atlanta, Ga., where you can see the "Standard" rotary shuttle machine until November 20. tf

An Interesting Thought!

200,000.
200,000 Organs.
200,000 Estey Organs.
200,000 Estey Organs have been manufactured. Think of it. Try and realize what it means. It is one organ finished every week since Noah built the ark.

Do you suppose it would be possible, with a sufficient number of men, to build a fine Reed Organ all complete in seven hours? No doubt it would, but it would certainly require a large force of skilled men to do it. Now, if the Estey Organ company had taken so long a time as seven hours they would have had to begun before Columbus discovered America in order to complete 200,000 organs in 1888.

They have actually been building their famous Reed Organs forty years, averaging about one organ in thirty-five minutes. And not building them only. They have sold them.

No other organ can show such sales. What does it prove? Simply that the ESTEY Organ is the favorite, that it is the best value for the money invested, that it has been the choice with the majority of persons who have purchased organs.

You can't make any mistake in choosing an ESTEY, for the great majority is with you.

Go to the ESTEY Organ Co.'s ware-rooms, corner Marietta and Broad streets, Atlanta, Ga., and you can be suited in price and terms. sept 18—tf

N. Y. Fire Insurance Clothing Co

SALE OF CLOTHING!

By Order of N. Y. Insurance Clothing Company.

By Order of N. Y. Insurance Clothing Company.

Over $39,000 Worth Men's, Boys' and Children's Clothing Saved from the Late New York Fire. Must be Closed Out by Order of the Insurance Companies.

The appraisers of the insurance companies, after carefully examining the stock of clothing, concluded that the same was not so badly damaged as claimed by the assured clothing manufacturers; and, failing to agree as to the actual loss, were forced to take the stock, turn it into money, and the goods must be sold at once in order to make final settlement. All goods are appraised at fifty cents on the dollar, and this is all we want for them. The great fire sale will enable the people of this city and vicinity to secure their clothing for almost nothing. Men's fine evening suits $6.95, worth $14; Men's heavy working suits $4.98, worth $11; this $4.98 heavy suit is well made and trimmed. If the purchaser is not satisfied he can return the suit in two weeks' time. A splendid suit of men's clothes $4.50. This suit is well made to match the latest style, and is really worth $10. Extra fine quality of men's suits, tailor made, $9.49. This is an elegant suit and worth $16. 1,700 boys' suits, all to match, for $3.75, worth $7.50. 265 boys' suits at $3.95. 600 pairs of pants, ranging from 98c to $7.

2,000 men's, youths' and boys' overcoats, in meltons, kerseys, chinchillas, wide whales, worsteds, cassimeres, silk and satin lined, one-half value.

Examine our line and be convinced. Don't connect us with irresponsible traveling sales, but give us our just deserts. Don't cry humbug before you inspect our line of goods, as we can prove all our claims. Come see, and you will surely purchase.

Insurance Clothing company, salesroom old capitol building, Marietta street, rooms Nos. 5 and 6. Opening day, Friday, 10 o'clock, Atlanta, Ga.

Come early and avoid the rush. Open from 7:30 in the morning till 9 at night, Saturday till 11 p. m. 7t

Coaline Powder for Headache—A Specific Bay Rum, Imported, 25c bottle.

JACOBS' GLYCERINE JELLY OF WHITE ROSES

JACOBS' GLYCERINE JELLY OF WHITE ROSES

Bleak October and November winds play havoc with the finest complexions, but if this preparation is freely used, you are insured against their action.

The disagreeable effects of harsh winds, sudden exposure to great heat or cold, as chapping, chafing, sunburn and freckles, is completely overcome by the free use of this preparation. Glycerine used alone, with many skins, is irritating, but when pure and combined in the proper manner, it has marvelous power in rendering the skin soft, fair and blooming. It will be found a great luxury to gentlemen after shaving. Price 25c.
